

Accidents, Girls, Late for Dinner, Work-- It's All in A Commuter's Daily Life

A commuter's life is not a happy one — sometimes. With apologies to Gilbert and Sullivan, The Sun hereby presents a few on-the-cuff notes by its commuter correspondent. (The notes are on-the-cuff because that is where the reporter took them. Unfortunately, he has since sent his shirt to the laundry, so none of the facts can be verified.)

The following observations were made through the smoky haze of a couple of Greyhound buses going to and from this area and San Francisco.

From here on out, it is all Mr. Commuter, airing some of his gripes!

HOMEWARD traffic toward the Broadway Tunnel toward Orinda on August 4 came to an abrupt stop at 4:45 p.m., then began to creep slowly. In short order two lanes of motorists and buses were backed up on upper Broadway in Oakland.

Our bus encountered the congestion below Lake Temescal. Fifteen minutes later we had crept the three miles to the scene of the accident. Four or five cars were smashed together in the westbound lanes.

The clogged eastbound lanes were not blocked in any way. The jam was caused entirely by drivers who slowed down and stopped to rubberneck at the scene. A tow car was working to untangle the damage; an ambulance was taking aboard the victims, and two Highway Patrol cars were there—the officers busy investigating the situation.

No attempt was being made to speed up the eastbound traffic or to keep it moving. Next day the majority of the people involved in the congestion reported they were half an hour or more late getting home. It's a stupid situation but perhaps it serves them right. It is disappointing, however, that the Highway Patrol takes so little interest in keeping traffic moving.

Another puzzling facet of the situation was that none of the five daily newspapers in the San Francisco-Oakland area, which provide us with our only other side-of-the-tunnel news, bothered to report the accident. There were numerous comments to the effect that, "How many people have to be killed before the papers consider it worth while as a news item?"

The same traffic, in the same place, for the same amount of delay, backed up again on Wednesday afternoon, August 6. Fifteen minutes later we reached the cause of the new congestion: A big, new car was parked well off at the side of the highway; a wheel was resting on a jack; the tire off—apparently it had been taken in for repairs.

STANDING BESIDE THE car and talking over the situation were three attractive young ladies in skimpy bathing suits. Every single motorist on the road was slowing down to make a careful inspection of the bathing suits and their contents! This time there was no Highway Patrol in sight, nor was there any other officer to keep traffic moving. Another half hour shot to hell!

Who says commuters aren't funny?

On Thursday morning, August 7, westbound commute traffic on the highway just east of Charles Hill began to back up at 7:30 a.m.; soon it was slowed to a crawl three miles back. As the traffic neared the crest of Charles Hill it slowed, then speeded up and the highway was clear.

Everybody looked to see what was going on. What was going on was an innocent East Bay M.U.D. service truck parked off in a field about 200 feet south of the highway.

ONE MAN WAS working on something in the ground. But the truck was equipped with large, brilliant, flashing caution lights on the front and rear fenders, if an which were blinking brightly—200 feet from the nearest traffic lane. It was a spectacular sight. No wonder everybody slowed down to admire it. Maybe they didn't mind being fifteen minutes late to work.

What else is going to show up in the next rush hour to entertain the rubberneckers and hold up traffic? It won't take much. Any kind of entertainment seems to turn the trick.

There are some transit experts who claim that highway buses will solve all mass transit problems and separate rail facilities are unnecessary. Maybe so, but an engineer or motorman should ever be caught running half an hour late so he could slow down and enjoy an interesting view his passengers would take great delight in decorating him with tar and feathers.

HOWEVER, WHEN a bus is caught in a traffic jam on the highway, what good does it do to blame the driver?

Dear Highway Patrol: What can you do to help keep traffic moving? My boss is mad 'cause I'm late in the morning; my wife is unhappy cause dinner is burned at night. I'm frustrated 'cause I ain't getting no place — at least very fast.

Orinda Wins Swim Meet At Park Pool

An 11 point margin won a meet for Orinda Park when the Pleasant Hill Swim Club met them in a non-league match August 6 at the Orinda Park Pool.

The final score was 206 to 195. Sharing top honors for the Orinda swimmers were Wayne Webster, Barbie Bush and Kim Olson. Wayne and Barbie both swam in the 14 and under group and won three individual events and swam on winning relays. 10 year old Kim Olson won firsts in three events.

Bruce Phillips, swimming in the 8-and-under boys group, won three firsts for Pleasant Hill. Bruce also supplied one of the high spots in the evening by closing up on a long lead held by the Orinda anchor man in the relay and giving Pleasant Hill a win.

Joanne Murphy also won three firsts for the 10-and-under girls and swam on a winning relay. Linda Williams, swimming as a substitute, got a surprise win in the 12-and-under freestyle.

The Pleasant Hill 17-and-under boys as a group gave the best performance of the meet. With Rich Wislack, Chuck Haster, Ralph Mohr, Steve Sipes, Pete Wolfe and Mokes Collins swimming they swept all four events except for a third place in the back stroke which was won by Shurtleff of Orinda Park.

A return meet has been arranged for August 24 when the Pleasant Hill Club will host Orinda Park at the Pleasant Hill Recreation pool at 147 Gregory Lane.

Senate Bill Makes Community Pools Exempt From Tax

A campaign by community swimming pools in the East Bay area to avoid paying 20 per cent excise tax on capital costs and operating expenses of such organizations met with success this week.

Gene Brown, president of Las Trampas pool, was informed that Tuesday the United States Senate passed the Forand Bill (H. R. 7125), a portion of which makes non-profit swimming clubs exempt from the federal excise tax.

THE CAMPAIGN to eliminate community pools from the tax was joined in by 18 community pool groups in Central Contra Costa County, with over 4000 member families and a total membership of about 17,000.

The Sun gave its editorial support to the proposal to eliminate excise taxes on community swimming pools.

"There are some differences in the bill as passed by the Senate and by the House of Representatives," Brown said, "principally in that the Senate went further in the direction of tax relief. But there are no differences in the action of the two houses as far as swimming pools are concerned."

"DIFFERENCES between the House and Senate versions of the bill will have to be adjusted by conference between the two houses, and the final product will become law upon signature by the President."

Brown pointed out that the opening of Las Trampas pool set for Sunday afternoon will now celebrate not only the pool opening but the removal of the excise tax.

"We are confident that final enactment of the tax exemption for community swimming pools is now certain," Brown said.

"Much of the credit for this success must be attributed to the concerted action of 24 East Bay pool groups, excellent support by the local press, and to the diligent and energetic aid of our congressmen from the Sixth District, John Baldwin."

Assemblyman Donald Doyle and his family will move to Walnut Creek in the near future, he announced.

He has purchased a home at 19 Norlyn Drive, south of Ygnacio Valley Road, formerly owned by the H. E. Eggerts.

Chamber Dinner Tuesday To Plan for "Open House"

All Orinda business firms are urged by John Ogden, Orinda Chamber of Commerce president, to have representatives at the chamber meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Casa Orinda.

Plans will be made for a community-wide "Orinda Open House" in which the chamber hopes to get the cooperation of all business and professional firms. The Open House will be held Friday night, September 26.

THE NIGHT DINNER meeting was arranged for so that all businesses and professional organizations, including those who can't be represented at the regular noon luncheons, can attend, according to Al Baer, merchants committee chairman.

"The Open House will tie in with the opening of the Village bypass," Baer said. "The purpose of the event will be to open the doors of all Orinda business and professional firms in an evening of fun and education in which local residents and personnel of stores and offices can get acquainted with each other."

EACH FIRM, Baer said, will be asked to present either a "live" demonstration or an exhibit that will interest local residents, and some businesses will offer refreshments and perhaps entertainment features.

"In addition there will be mobile exhibits from utility companies and government units represented in Orinda," Baer said. "All local organizations, such as youth groups, churches, schools, are and dance groups, and social and fraternal organizations will be asked to take part."

THE SEPTEMBER 26 Open House will be held from 6 to 9:30 p.m. in the business area.

"It's important that all business firms be represented at the dinner meeting Tuesday if we're to put on a successful program," Baer declared. "It will be an opportunity for members of all firms to meet many residents of Orinda."

Clubs and organizations wishing to take part in the Open House may get in touch with Baer at the Village Shoe Shop.

Normandy Lane, La Espiral Work Costs $50,000

The contract for restoring Normandy Lane and La Espiral in the Orinda area, which were closed to through traffic because of slides, has been awarded to Gallagher & Burk of Oakland who submitted a bid of $49,169.44, the lowest of two bids received.

The engineers estimate for the contractual items was $40,697, said Supervisor Mel Nielsen.

THE SLIDE on Normandy Lane isolated its upper end and Ridge Lane, leaving residents without access and without fire protection or other services. To eliminate this hazard, a temporary road was constructed across private property to Los Altos Road. A temporary foot bridge was constructed for pedestrian traffic across the slide area.

On La Espiral, the slide area was bridged with a temporary wood structure which allowed one-lane vehicular traffic.

THE CONTRACT provides for the installation of underground drainage systems to intercept seepage waters and the restoration of the roads to their original condition.

During the construction period, La Espiral, between El Verano and Dos Palos, will be closed to through traffic.

The contractor began work this week, and planned to complete it in 30 days.

$19 Million Bond Proposal Plan Told by Worthington

Voters of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (ACT) will be asked to go to the polls in November and approve as much as $19 million for the acquisition of Key System, according to John Worthington, newly appointed general manager of ACT.

Worthington revealed upon being sworn in by First District Court of Appeals Presiding Justice Raymond E. Peters Tuesday that it would cost between $16 million and $19 million for the proposed purchase.

SINCE MARCH, Worthington has been serving the district as a part time transit consultant.

He said that his findings showed that for the purchase of certain Key System properties and new buses needed for operation of the district it would take a bond issue of some $19 million.

"There will not be a big tax cost in the amortization of the system," Worthington declared. He said the intercity commuter service can be expanded and improved at the same time.

Discussing the bond issue the transportation specialist explained.

"We must put it to the public in a practical way. We must make it attractive and salable so that it does not put a big burden upon the taxpayer."

"WE WILL TAKE advantage of tax savings that the district, as a public agency, is entitled to and which a private operator doesn't have."

"From our standpoint the profit motive is gone. The State allows a private carrier to gain a reasonable profit of six to seven percent. Under income from necessary fares, per year our return can amount to 18 per cent. Under the best use and providing additional service from this return, that is quite a bulge."

Worthington stressed that the public agency has no Federal tax to pay; "only certain state taxes."

He emphasized that the district will pay all highway taxes "and there thus will be no diversion of gasoline funds."

He declared the commuter system in the two counties and to San Francisco "must be maintained."

THE NEW official said the district will solicit the support of civic groups on the bond issue "and I think we are going to get a lot of support."

Worthington said the directors are to study the program on a committee basis. The bond issue proposal will be discussed at a special meeting of the board soon after the regular Tuesday session.

Worthington took the oath of office for the $20,000 a year manager's job at the Claremont Hotel ceremonies, attended by city and county officials.

JUSTICE PETERS noted that an adequate system can not be operated without a subsidy.

Central County Areas Excluded From Marin Suit

Unincorporated communities of Central Contra Costa have been excluded from a suit claiming the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District's boundaries are illegal.

Excluded from the suit were the communities of Orinda, San Ramon, Alamo, San Ramon, Danville, Ygnacio Valley and Pacheco.

OTHER COMMUNITIES excluded from the suit Wednesday were North Richmond, Giant, Port Costa, and Selby.

Retained in the suit were the unincorporated communities of Crockett, Rodeo, Avon, Oleum, Rollingwood and Kensington.

Hearings on the suit of the Contra Costa Transit Council versus the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District were closed late Wednesday in Marin County Superior Court.

The transit council was given 10 days in which to file its brief and the transit district was ordered to prepare its findings five days after the council submits its.

AT ISSUE is whether Richmond, San Pablo and certain unincorporated areas of Contra Costa County became legal parts of the district when it was formed at the general elections in November, 1956.

Five Contra Costa taxpayers, represented by George Gordon of the law firm of Carlson, Collins, Gordon and Bold, and Dana Murphy of Tinning and DeLap, claim that if absentee ballots had been counted as required by law the results might have shown Richmond and San Pablo voted state law governing the district, against becoming part of the district.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled Tuesday, when the trial opened, that the district must prove that the election was conducted according to law.

ROBERT E. NISBIT, secretary attorney of the district, had asked the judge to declare the district's boundaries as being legal without further evidence being filed by either side.

The five taxpayers who brought the suit in the name of the people of the State of California are C. C. Cowell, Richmond; Joseph B. Wisher, San Pablo; Lloyd C. Edwards, Crockett; Frank Joseph Pascoe and James Olson, Elgin, Ygnacio Valley.

Murdoch and Gordon argued the absentee ballots could have turned the decision against the district.

Nisbit and Robert H. Kroniger, Oakland attorney, countered with statements that all absentee ballots favored the district 2 1/2 to 1.

Witnesses heard were Thomas Heaton, planning director of Contra Costa; County Clerk Walter Pascoe and James Olson, elections department chief.

THE CENTRAL COUNTY area was excluded from the suit since both parties agreed that no matter what the absentee ballot cast in any or all of the communities, the majority would have still been in favor of being included in the district.

The cities of Walnut Creek and Concord voted themselves into the district and were therefore not considered in the suit.

Glorietta School Bid Call Issued

A call for bids on the proposed addition to Glorietta School was issued this week after Superintendent Joseph Sheaff of the Orinda Union School District obtained approval from the State Allocations Board.

The board approved the sum of $179,287.52 for land, construction, furnishings and equipment for the addition, to include three classrooms, a library, kindergarten room, and stage for the auditorium.

Bids will be opened at the school board meeting September 8. Construction should begin in mid-September, Sheaff said, and be completed in February or March.

Bids were previously called for but rejected when they went over the amount approved by the state.

Girl to Attend French School

Orinda American Field Service exchange student Linda Lanciaone from Miramonte High School, left Orinda yesterday for her five months' stay in Rouen, France.

The family she is going to stay with has five children between 8 and 18. The oldest daughter has just returned to France from an AFS school year in Nebraska.

Linda's French "father," Monsieur Jacques Moreau, is the research director in medical chemistry at the medical school of the University of Rouen; Mrs. Moreau holds a diploma in pharmacy and runs a prescription shop in Rouen.

The family lives in a large house with a big garden in a residential suburb. Linda will attend the lycee "Jeanne d'Arc," a high school for girls.

Two thousand students attend the school, of which 180 are boarders, the rest day students. There will be about 40 students in Linda's class.

Seeks Damages

A collision of a motor scooter with a truck has resulted in a $25,000 damage suit filed in superior court.

Plaintiff is Richard J. Maccario, 18, of 357 Glorietta, Orinda. The defendants are Jack Quarle and Jack Quarle Sr., 1031 Pine Lane, Lafayette.

Maccario claims that a defective throttle on the scooter, owned by the defendants, caused it to collide with a truck June 13 on Mt. Diablo boulevard east of Oak Hill road.

Contractors Start Work On Freeway Construction

The huge job of building the $3,662,946 Orinda-Lafayette freeway link is under way.

Workers employed by Gordon H. Ball and Ball & Simpson of Berkeley, holders of the contract, last Friday started removing trees and other obstructions along the right-of-way.

Earth-moving equipment will start shifting the landscape about September 1, said J. W. Triguero, engineer for the contractors.

The contract provides that the job be completed in 250 working days. Even with allowance for some bad weather, Triguero said, this means the job may be completed by October or November of next year.

The few houses along the right-of-way were previously removed under another contract.

Clearing work began on the Orinda side of Charles Hill, 7 mile east of Orinda Road. Work started at the Orinda end, Triguero said, because most of the drainage pipe is to be installed in that portion of the freeway.

The road under construction will join the Walnut Creek-Lafayette freeway 8 east of Sunnybrook drive.

Near that point, near Vallejo School, a complete field office will be constructed.

Children Study Science In Classes Under Trees

The best place to teach the natural sciences is out-of-doors. That's the opinion—and one that he's had proof of in practice—of Frank Isola, director of the Orinda School District's summer camp for fifth graders.

Held at Echo Summit high in the Sierras, the camp has just completed its fourth successful year. A total of 205 youngsters, between 30 and 35 each week, have taken part this summer in the Monday-to-Friday outdoors school.

SUBJECTS STUDIED include geology, botany, geography, weather, and English composition—for each student keeps a log which he brings back with him for classroom use during remaining summer school sessions in Orinda and during other school terms.

"Implicit in the program is the study of the conservation of natural resources," Isola pointed out. "With the increasing growth of population, the maintenance of our watershed becomes more and more important—and the place to teach it is right at the watershed itself."

YOUNGSTERS SLEEP out-of-doors in sleeping bags outside the rented lodge at Echo Summit used for class headquarters. There's a camp cook, and a bus for transportation.

"But it's school, and not recreation," Isola pointed out. "We're not competing with any organizations which provide youngsters with outdoor recreation. Our students study, and study hard."

Each day at camp varies in things studied and places visited.

Firm Asked to Pay For Loss of Trees

The Bayshore Construction Co., which assertedly cut down 16 pine trees belonging to the Orinda Union School District, has been asked to pay $5,418 to the district for the loss.

Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings yesterday wrote a letter to the firm declaring that an appraiser has valued the 16 trees at $1,806, and that "under applicable provisions of law, the school district is entitled to recover three times this amount, that is, $5,418."

The tree-felling occurred when Bayshore Construction Co., clearing property near the Orinda interchange for the Associated Investment Co. of Oakland, apparently nudged over the property line of adjacent Pine Grove School.

If the claim is not paid, Hemmings said, a civil action will be filed.

The law provides, he explained, that when destruction of property is "willful," actual loss may be multiplied by three.

"It would be different in some wilderness area of the state," Hemmings said. "But in Orinda, where property lines should be easy to determine, there isn't much excuse for this kind of thing."

Mercury Climbs To Year's High

It was the right kind of weather last week in Orinda for long, tall drinks, swimming, and saying in the shade. Temperatures climbed to 98 Tuesday, hottest day of the year.

Maximums ranged from 75 to 98, and minimums from 49 to 58.

Highs and lows as recorded for the week were:

Rankin Tells Unification Possibilities

The possibilities involved in forming two or three unified school districts, grouping high schools and grade schools in the Alcalanes Union High School District area, were discussed last Friday by Walnut Creek Schools Superintendent Sheldon Rankin.

He spoke at a meeting of the Walnut Creek Hi-12 club. Rankin said that money savings would result, but added that location of the boundary lines would perhaps raise controversy.

Rankin, who taught school in Walnut Creek for years, and has long service as superintendent, plans to retire in the near future.

He showed a map of the area, discussed the districts' tax rates and assessed values.

A possible division into two districts might have a boundary line in the Charles Hill area, he said. One side would be Walnut Creek, Alamo, Lafayette and other districts. On the other side would be Orinda, Moraga and Canyon.

Another possibility discussed has been the formation of a "city school district" in Walnut Creek, which would include Las Lomas High School, he added.

Nejedly Honored At Dollar Ranch

John Nejedly, who will leave his post as Walnut Creek city attorney to become Contra Costa County district attorney on January 1, was congratulated by hundreds of friends at a testimonial picnic, Sunday.

The event was held outdoors at the R. Stanley Dollar ranch, in southwest Walnut Creek. The committee in charge included many local men and women who backed Nejedly in his campaign against incumbent Francis Collins of Pinole.

Nejedly has been Walnut Creek city attorney for 10 years. He has been credited with arranging financing for the Little Master Plan when many persons thought it was impossible, and has been the leader in many community enterprises.

A County School District Reorganization committee has been at work under the direction of Dr. Jack Shabbazian of Danville. It will present a report later, Rankin said.

Speakers On Transit Available

An illustrated public presentation of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District's program for improved and expanded East Bay transit soon will be available for scheduling by organizations in the area.

Robert K. Barber, president of the district, announced today that more than 300 letters, together with a new brochure describing the district, have been mailed to East Bay organizations telling of the availability of the presentation.

Titled "A Transit Acquisition and Development Program for the East Bay Area," the presentation includes a series of descriptive charts and a commentary by a district representative pointing out the problems of mass transportation in the area and explaining the district's development plan for meeting this need.

The presentation will be available free of charge beginning next month for luncheon meetings as well as for groups holding their meetings during the morning, afternoon or evening hours, including Saturdays and Sundays.

Orindan, Peralta Executive, To Advise WC Physicians

George U. Wood of 19 Brookbank Road, Orinda, administrator of the Oakland Peralta Hospital, has been retained to advise the Walnut Creek Community Hospital Association, as it considers design, financing, equipping and hiring personnel for the new hospital, which is planned for location on Ygnacio Valley Road.

Bruce Copeland, Association representative, said the Wood's exceptional qualifications will be of great benefit to the local group in future months.

Wood is also the executive vice president of the Peralta Hospital organization. He plans to make a trip to Russia next month, and will teach hospital administration for two weeks at the University of Moscow.

Copeland said that the Association plans to go ahead with purchase arrangements for the 10 acre site, just west of the Rancho San Miguel Subdivision. Association President John Nejedly is working out the details. The land is owned by Dr. George Degnan and associates.

Architect Fred Confer of Confer and Willis has plans for a 50-bed hospital. He, the directors and financier Richard Graves will talk with Wood in the future months.

The selection of Ygnacio Valley as the site for the new hospital came only after months of debate among the some 70 doctors in the association.

Cost of the new hospital has been estimated at some $700,000 or $800,000. The doctors have pledged certain sums, and private investors have taken an interest in the enterprise.

Beth, Sharon, Nancy and Jeanie are Queen Hopefuls

Two Pleasant Hill girls, a Walnut Creek girl and a Lafayette girl are entered in the Walnut Festival queen competition, which will be held September 18, the first night of the four day celebration.

They are Beth Evans, 18, of Lafayette; Sharon Patterson, 19, of Pleasant Hill; Nancy Peterson, 18, of Walnut Creek and Jeanie Widawitz, 17, of Pleasant Hill.

Each girl is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Kiwanis. Announcement of her name will be made at the club's meeting on Monday. The club reportedly is considering four possible candidates.

Bob Schroder, Festival Queen Contest chairman, said that all the candidates will have dinner with the judges on September 18, and will be presented to the audience at the talent show that night. Independent judges will decide between the candidates after the show.

The name of the queen will be announced Friday evening, September 19, and the coronation will be held in the city recreation building. The Walnut Creek Soroptimists will handle the arrangements. Mrs. Lucille Maury will be in charge.

SCHRODER commented, "We plan that the queen will participate in more events this year, such as presentation of awards from the talent show competition, and also the awards from the Festival parade."

It is likely that the queen candidates will be honored by their sponsoring clubs before the Festival.

Schroder is being aided by Committeemen Vance Perry, Jim Ring and Ted Gurney. They will see to such details as the selection of gifts for the

Supervisors OK Franklin Canyon Freeway Route

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez approved the proposed route for the Franklin Canyon Freeway.

The proposed freeway, which drew fire from central Contra Costa residents in 1957 when it was given top priority over the completion of the Diablo Freeway network by the supervisors, will span some 16.1 miles in the northern portion of the county.

The four lane highway which will replace the present two lane road will run from Highway 40 near Rodeo to Willow Pass Road north and east of Concord.

The route approved follows the present Franklin Canyon Highway, but it eliminates numerous curves existing on the present route.

A public hearing on the proposed route was held in Martinez August 7 when the general freeway plan was outlined by J. P. Sinclair, State Division of Highways engineer.

The route has been approved now by both state and county agencies. The cost for construction has been estimated at some $17 million.

Public Hearing on Dixon Farmer Star Budget August 19 With Three Firsts

Public hearing on the county's proposed $35,774,232 budget for 1958-59 will be August 19 at 2 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers, Hall of Records, Martinez.

The budget, if approved without change, will require nearly a 12 per cent increase for every $100 of assessed valuation, according to findings of the supervisors.

IN PRELIMINARY budget discussions the supervisors cut approximately $5 million from county departmental requests. The original total budget requests totaled over $40 million and would have required a 73 per cent increase for every $100 in assessed valuation.

The tax rate indicated by the supervisors will be $2.89 per $100 of assessed valuation for the entire county except in Richmond. RICHMOND operates its own library system and there the projected tax rate is $2.189.

The present county tax rate is $2.17 and in Richmond $2.07 per $100.

Dixon Farmer, Orinda's one-man track team, is apparently in top form for defending his title as Northern California decathlon champion.

In a track meet Friday at Burlingame, Farmer took three first places and two seconds.

The Miramonte High School athlete, who will be a senior this fall, won the 220 dash in 22.5, the broad jump at 23 feet 2 1/2 in., and the hop-step-jump at 44.6.

Farmer was runnerup in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles.

Farmer will defend his decathlon title August 22-23 at Burlingame.

Thrift Shop to Have Bargains Before Closing

Two big weeks of bargains are being offered by the Thrift Shop, starting this week.

Never before in its history of low prices has the Thrift Shop offered such values say the sponsors.

The Linnet Juniors, a busy group of hard working volunteers, is planning a radical renovation and redecoration of the Thrift Shop. It will be necessary to close the doors for one week to accomplish this.

Before work starts on this project the public will be offered merchandise at "unheard of" prices. Summer play clothes, such as shorts and swim suits, are to be one price only, 15 cents. Some specially nice household articles will be found, among them a nice toaster and a waffle iron.

The Thrift Shop, located at 1547 East Street, will have its doors open today at 10 a.m. and will close at 4 p.m.

Tomorrow the hours will be 10 to 2 p.m.

Today Mrs. James Hannan, Mrs. Edward Radford and Mrs. William Ames will staff the shop. The Linnet Juniors will operate the shop tomorrow.

LIKE TO WIN $10? Just write me about your most memorable experience with a long distance call. For each true long distance story we use in this column, we'll pay $10. Maybe yours will be one of them!

Here's a sample of the kind of story we'd like to get.

The Richard Wilsons, of 14 Guerrero Street, lost their fox terrier, "Spot," on the last day of their vacation in the Sierra. When they searched the area around their cabin, they found no trace of the dog. As tears streamed down the faces of their sons, Rich, 8, and Steve, 5, the Wilsons sadly drove home. When they arrived, they decided to phone the ranger station near the cabin, on the slim chance that Spot had been seen. Said a ranger: "A stray fox terrier wandered up here an hour ago. I'll put him on the line." Then came the sound of Spot's barking across the miles—turning a tragedy into the happiest day of the year for the Wilsons.

On your most memorable long distance call did you give—or receive—some exciting news? Did a call help you solve a problem? Did you surprise someone you hadn't seen in a long time? Or maybe your call gave you a special lift, as a long distance call so often does. Just write:

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Orinda Union School District, Contra Costa County, State of California, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the erection and completion of additions to the Gloriaetta School on school property located on Martha Road, Orinda, California.

Each bid shall be in accordance with plans, specifications and other contract documents now on file at the office of Jack Bucher, Architect, A.I.A. and Associates, 3729 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, California, where they may be examined and copies obtained from the Architect upon deposit of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within forty-eight (48) hours after the bids are opened. Deposit checks shall be made payable to the Orinda Union School District.

Work shall commence within ten (10) days after the award of the contract and notice to proceed and shall be completed within one hundred and eighty (180) calendar days after commencement. Liquidated damages for failure to complete the work within the contract time will be assessed in the amount of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per day.

Each bid shall be made on a proposal form to be obtained at the office of the Architect and shall be accompanied by a certified check or cashiers check in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) and shall be made payable to the Orinda Union School District. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the Orinda Union School District, Contra Costa County, on or before Monday, September 8, 1958, and read aloud at 7:30 p.m. of that day at the Board Room of Pine Grove School, Altamira Drive, Orinda, California.

The above-mentioned check shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Trustees of the Orinda Union School District.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids or waive any informality in the bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

The prevailing rates as ascertained by the Board of Trustees and established by the Contra Costa Building and Construction Trades Council, latest edition, shall be paid by the contractor and all subcontractors.

Garbage-Franchise Or Free Reign?

Decision Will Be in Hands Of Supervisors -- And You

Central Contra Costa residents will soon be presented a proposal by county supervisors regulating the collection of garbage and waste disposal within the county.

Attention of the supervisors was drawn in matter of rates, collection and service policies when the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District was established two years ago and open burning by refuse collectors was banned by law.

SINCE THAT time the Contra Costa Garbage Men's Association has brought before the public information claiming "a substantial increase in costs has forced contractors to increase collection rates."

The collectors noted they were no longer able to burn garbage and trash, but rather had to dispose of it by "cut and fill," a more expensive method.

Since that time, according to statements issued by the association, other methods have been developed which allow the garbage to be decomposed and reduced to usable plant food and other commercial compost materials which can be sold at a profit by the members holding patents on the processes.

THESE STATEMENTS spurred the interest of a local improvement association.

Late in 1957, the Pleasant Hill Improvement Association, the oldest improver group in the Pleasant Hill area, wrote the supervisors asking for a hearing on a proposed 50 per cent increase in the rates of the Valley Disposal Company, which services a portion of the association's area.

The supervisors informed the local improver group that they had no control whatsoever over rates charged by collectors, since garbage collection in the county is "purely a free enterprise."

The rate increase was effected by the disposal company and residents were given the choice of continuing the service or changing over to the Olney Disposal Company.

AT APPROXIMATELY the same time as the rate increase was put into effect by the Valley

Disposal Company the Olney firm also increased its rates "due to higher operational costs."

The problem of waste disposal in the county is not new, however.

As early as 1954, the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District was asked to enter into the garbage disposal business.

The district, according to Section 6512 of the Health-Safety Code of the State of California, as revised in 1923, has the right to build, enlarge and construct garbage dumps; necessary facilities etc; or to permit exclusive franchises for collection of waste matters within the district.

THE SANITARY District adopted a resolution in 1954 stating it would enter the garbage business and would therefore set rates, policy, etc., on the collection of refuse in its domain.

The following week, a delegation from the Pleasant Hill Civic Council appeared at the meeting of the Sanitary District and contended that the policy adopted by the district would force a small independent operator out of business.

The district rescinded its policy and, according to Claude McPhee, secretary of the district, the matter of garbage was not brought up again until three months ago when the progress of the Supervisors' Waste Disposal Committee was discussed.

The committee was formed by the county supervisors to determine whether a county ordinance is needed to control waste disposal and if so to draft a working agreement between public and collector to standardize collection methods and rates.

THE COMMITTEE submitted preliminary findings to the board of supervisors, but a disagreement in the board chamber arose between John Nejedly, chairman, and Francis Collins. The board referred the report to Collins for study. Several weeks later Collins was asked by the board of the progress on it. Collins stated the committee had not acted on the matter, but "I will be glad to draft an ordinance satisfactory to all parties."

The waste disposal hearings were deferred during the months of May, June, July for further study by the supervisors.

Specific recommendations of the committee included adoption of permits for garbage collection, adoption of a system of exclusive licensing with provisions giving established collectors protection, controlling of rates, requiring of performance bonds, establishment of times and manner of collection, five year contracts with five year option for renewal and insurance that the contractor has proper collection facilities.

ALTHOUGH THE committee has not been officially disbanded, the supervisors placed responsibility for actual wording of the ordinance in a resolution in the hands of Collins.

THE PLEASANT Hill Improvement Association forwarded another letter to the supervisors several weeks ago asking that the Central Sanitary District be studied to determine whether it would be feasible for it to govern garbage and trash collection in the communities of central Contra Costa, including Orinda, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and portions of Danville.

The letter pointed out these areas since they are unincorporated.

The City of Walnut Creek entered into a franchise agreement with the Valley Disposal Company for service in 1955. Concord has a franchise agreement with the Concord Disposal Service.

PETE BERTOGLIO, president of the garbage men's association, informed The Sun that as yet, the association has not seen the proposed county ordinance on waste disposal now being prepared by District Attorney Francis Collins.

Bertoglio pointed out that the garbage men do not want franchises, but rather, licensing privileges.

"The franchising would include a number of cumbersome state regulations, whereas the county licensing would provide for exclusive areas, and would afford equality of protection for both contractor and client," he said.

INCLUDED in the licensing would be provisions declaring the County Board of Supervisors as the rate-setting body and public hearings would be necessary for increases in rates. Decreases in the rates could be automatic.

Bertoglio commented that in effect, there are exclusive areas of service. He noted that in very few cases are there overlapping areas being serviced by different collectors.

He pointed out, however, that there are inequities in rates.

FOR EXAMPLE, within the city of Walnut Creek the Valley Disposal Company charges $1 per month for one collection of 50 gallons of garbage per week and once a month collection for one cubic yard of trimmings, trash, etc.

Outside the city the rate is $1.50. The franchise agreement with Walnut Creek provides that the disposal company will give once a day service to commercial interests requesting it. It also provides that residents will subscribe to the service.

The company must also, within the city limits, pick up dead animals, within 12 hours upon being notified by any resident or police officer.

Should areas annex, Bertoglio said, they would have their rates lowered and receive the same service as the rest of the city.

"It pays to live in the city, that's all," he commented.

OPERATORS WITHIN franchise areas, at present, must be bonded. No provision exists for the unincorporated areas, but Bertoglio noted, that association members consider it good business practice to be bonded.

The latest objection by the Pleasant Hill group brought about a promise by the supervisors last week that the residents would be afforded ample protection prior to any adoption of waste disposal measures through public hearings by the county board of supervisors.

The Pleasant Hill group, chaired by Mrs. Ruth Dawkins, protested in a letter to the supervisors that "there seems to be more concern with the protection of the operators and wishes of the Health Department of Contra Costa than to the welfare of the residents."

"FULL RECOGNITION of needs and convenience of the housewife should be made, including an effort to take a step toward curbing the increasing spiral of living costs in Contra Costa," Mrs. Dawkins' committee warned.

The committee had previously studied basic differences in franchises now in effect.

Concord has entered into a "somewhat different" franchise agreement with its contractor for garbage disposal. "In Concord," City Manager Ray Doren stated, "we are afforded trash pickup once a week and garbage collection once a week."

"The city couldn't ask for better service in consideration of the rates charged," Doren opined.

The Concord franchise may be revoked upon notice, but the Walnut Creek agreement is for a five year term.

BERTOGLIO STATED that it was his opinion that the county ordinance should be so worded so that any license could be terminated upon notice for services not properly rendered.

In Walnut Creek, as in Concord, the city council is the rate establishing body.

LAVERNE KIMBALL, city manager of Walnut Creek, commented that the garbage man can "key" public relations.

Refuse removal forces are in constant contact with the citizens. The average householder and taxpayer will have more occasion to know the garbage man than any other city employee.

"The caliber of those employed by the city in a municipal service, the quality of their performance and their attitudes and manner, all are closely related to the public's reaction to the city government."

"This is equally true whether the man on the job is a city employee or a private operator of the city's franchised contractor."

"ONE OF THE BEST ways to gain the goodwill and approval of the citizens is to insure the effective and economical operation," Kimball noted.

Kimball founded his comments on a report on refuse collection and disposal in 194 western cities submitted in "Western City," an official publication of several City Leagues.

Residents of the central county areas were further reminded of the waste disposal ordinance by heated statements charging "politics" in the drafting of the ordinance prior to the primary elections.

Working on the ordinance at the time were John Nejedly, candidate for district attorney and Collins.

The matter was discarded by the supervisors for several weeks. Collins was authorized by the Board of Supervisors to prepare a proposed ordinance on garbage disposal June 24 following hearings on the earlier proposals which were discarded.

UPON SUBMISSION of the proposed ordinance to the board, the supervisors will call public hearings, if the ordinance is satisfac-

Gerrymandering Charges Hit Transit Directors

J. Howard Arnold of Albany found himself again as the one dissenting director of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (ACT).

But despite Arnold's objections, boundary lines of ACT's wards will be changed.

ARNOLD charged repeatedly at a meeting Tuesday of the district's board of directors that he is a victim of gerrymandering.

"It is an obvious gerrymander to relieve me of most of the Alameda County area in my ward by ridding most of Berkeley for northern Contra Costa County," Arnold charged.

Robert K. Barber, who will swap territory with Arnold, voted yes on the proposal for redistricting.

FOLLOWING the roll call vote, Robert Nicht, secretary-attorney of the district, was ordered to draft up the new boundaries.

Five of the district's seven directors are elected from wards. Two are elected at large. All seven posts will be open in the November election.

State law requires the district to redraw boundaries as necessary in order to maintain generally equal population among the wards.

Barber's Ward I now includes 72,852 registered voters, whereas Arnold represents 123,687 voters in Ward II. The change will give Barber 99,747 and Arnold 96,792. Each director's home will remain within the ward he now represents.

THE CHANGE will transfer Pleasant Hill, Concord, Crockett and other northern Contra Costa communities from Barber's ward to Arnold's. El Cerrito and much of Berkeley, now represented by Arnold, will be shifted to Barber's area.

After the change, Ward I will include: The El Cerrito, Walnut Creek and Danville Judicial Districts and the portion of the 18th Assembly District in Berkeley.

Ward II will include Albany the 11th Assembly District (except El Cerrito) and the 10th Assembly District (except Kensington and the Walnut Creek and Danville Judicial Districts.)

ARNOLD said he may move his residence from Albany to Berkeley or run for director-at-large if the change is made.

Directors scheduled a public hearing for September 10 on petitions seeking the withdrawal from the district of about 50 square miles of northern Contra Costa County.

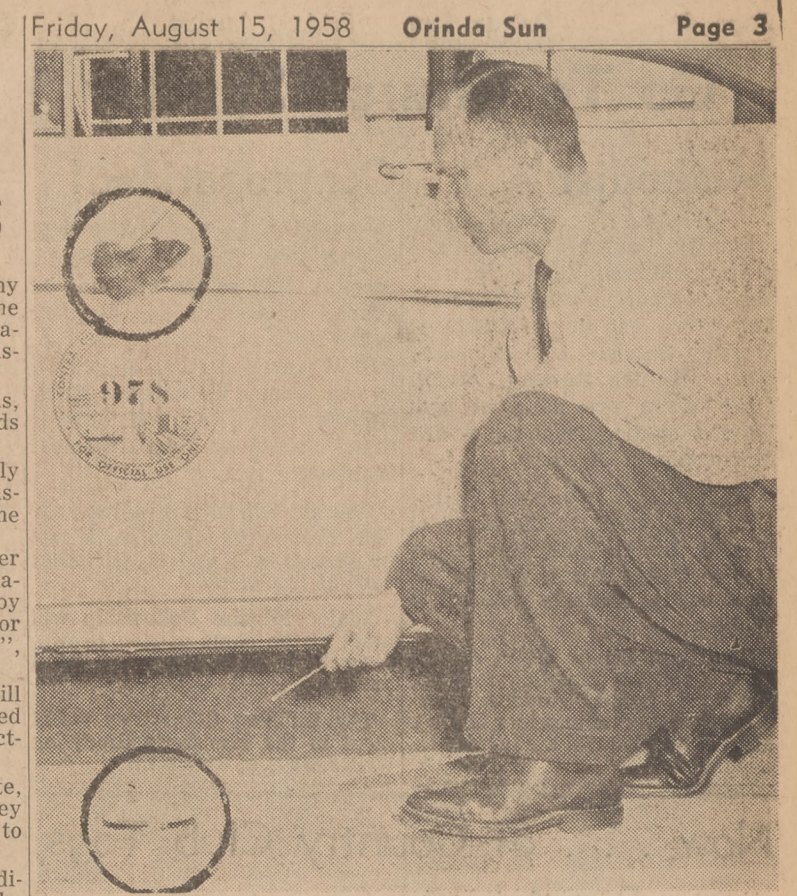

The petitions were filed last week by the Contra Costa Transit Council, which claims it has six signatures of property owners holding more than 51 per cent of the assessed valuation in the area.

Included are several large industries.

Miss Bailey Plan Dep't Secretary

Miss Brenda Bailey, 19, of Pleasant Hill, was hired last week as secretary to Walnut Creek Planning Director Les Foley, it was announced.

Miss Bailey attended Pleasant Hill High and graduated from Golden Gate Academy, Oakland. She attended East Contra Costa Junior College and Chico State College for two years.

ONE LAST KICK is given by this Rattus Norvegicus, or Norway Rat, after he has taken a healthy chunk of the rolled oats (circled directly below him.) The rat problem in Contra Costa County may not be apparent to many homeowners, but there is an estimated two rats for each human being, and this could include your home too! The county is fighting the problem with anti-coagulants, with the above results, as observed by Kenneth E. Danielson, assistant agricultural commissioner. There's one less rat in the county now! United Crusade Commerce, Industry Units Prepared

Shifting into high gear this week is the Commerce and Industry Division for the 1958 United Crusade campaign which will start September 22, according to Paul Tickner of Walnut Creek.

Division chairmen in each area have already recruited their unit chairmen with chapter chairmen appointments already being processed.

"WITH 25 WORKING days facing us on the calendar, we are shifting into higher gear with unit chairmen accepting assignments and preparing to do an all-out job in this year's campaign. In 1957 the Commerce and Industry Division of Diablo Valley raised and met 90 per cent of its goal. This was an excellent achievement, and one that we will try not only to match, but surpass," Tickner said.

He added, "Our division will need the services of a total of 42 volunteers. We have already recruited our four division chairmen plus 26 unit chairmen."

"Those top business people are in the process right now of recruiting a total of 111 chapter chairmen. The combined efforts of the total — or 142 men and women — we believe will insure our meeting this year's goal in our division."

SERVING WITH Tickner, manager of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company in Walnut Creek-Lafayette areas, are the following division chairmen: for Walnut Creek, Sal Balasquez, Sterling executive; for Lafayette, Ted Barcelona, real estate broker; for Pleasant Hill, Clay Corbin, pharmacist; for Orinda, Merl Brown, banker.

John Price, executive director of the Mt. Diablo Y.M.C.A., a member agency of the Crusade, will also assist Tickner.

Unit chairmen are, for Walnut Creek, Sal Blasquez, Sterling executive; for Orinda, Merl Brown, banker; for Lafayette, Ted Barcelona, real estate broker; for Pleasant Hill, Clay Corbin, pharmacist; for Orinda, Merl Brown, banker.

Dramateurs May Make Town Hall Permanent Home

"Thus Saith the Lord" will be the Rev. Bruce H. Parker's sermon topic during the 11 a.m. worship service of the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette in the Veterans Memorial Building Lafayette.

At 9:45 a.m. the Sunday school hour will be held under the guidance of Superintendent Robert Jordan. There will be a magic trick during this period performed by the pastor.

At 6:45 p.m. Roger Moore will direct Baptist Youth Fellowship activities in the lower auditorium of teen-agers. Next week there will be a special program "Hume Lake Echoes." 7:30 p.m. is the time for the evening service. This is an informal get-together with much old-fashioned singing and special music followed by a short message by the pastor "God's Cautions."

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Bible study and prayer meeting will be held at 2 Crest View Drive, Orinda. There are prayer groups for all ages.

Any young person desiring to attend the Hume Lake Youth Conference this week should get in touch with Mrs. Parker at Clifford 4-2194 immediately for reservations for the week beginning August 24.

All services announced will be held in the Veterans Memorial Building unless otherwise specified.

Christian Science

Assurance of God's readiness to supply all good to man will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul."

The Christian Science Churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

The ever-availability of divine goodness is set forth in the Scriptural readings, including this one from Luke (12:32): "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares (60:29): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (70:4): "Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified."

Covenant

"The Soul's Sure Anchor" will be the sermon topic for Rev. William C. Mays 11 a.m. service Sunday and "The Ultimate Standard" at 7 p.m.

Sunday School class for all ages at 9:45 a.m.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Christian Character Course on "Generosity," with Ezra Nelson in charge.

August 18-22, 9:30-2:00, Daily Vacation Bible School. Kindergarten through Junior High ages welcome. Bring lunch daily. Closing program August 22, 7:30 p.m.

Following the evening service Sunday the Young People and Children will enjoy a sing in the lower auditorium, at which time they will decorate for DVBS.

August 23-30, Youth of America Quadrennial, at camp of the Woods, New York.

Lutheran

"Being Seen of Men" will be the sermon theme at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette. The Rev. Merle O. Tollefson is pastor. Services begin at 8:15 and 9:30 a.m., and a nursery is available during the 9:30 a.m. service. Sunday School classes meet at 9:30 a.m. for preschool through grade three.

Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Vacation Bible School will meet at the church. There will be classes for all, three years old and up.

Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. the Mid-week Bible Study will meet.

Merner Elected Chairman of Library Board

F. C. Merner has been named chairman of the Lafayette Library Association.

Other officers chosen at the board's organization meeting are Loy Chamberlain, vice chairman; Mrs. A. H. Brandstad, secretary; and E. C. Pike, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold Mutnick was appointed chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. Dow Votaw named publicity chairman.

The board plans to proceed with construction of a new library at its present site if it can be purchased from the Lafayette School District.

Included in the site, if plans work out, will be the adjacent tennis court property owned by the school district.

Direct Distance Dialing In Orinda Is Explained

Step into the building at Santa Maria Way, Altaville, and it's like stepping into tomorrow.

The building is Pacific Telephone's new dial central office for Orinda, the electronic heart of one of the country's most modern telephone systems.

HERE ARE the high banks of complex tubes, wires and switches, through which thousands of voices are sent across wires to all parts of the country.

Here are the fantastic arrays of tiny metal parts that make it possible for people to pick up their telephones and dial calls directly to millions of other telephones across the street and across the United States.

This is the equipment that in split seconds transmits long distance calls and then automatically records such items as how long the call lasts and the number of the parties at both ends of the line.

JUST WHAT HAPPENS when you dial a long distance call? Here's how Pacific Telephone Manager Howard Greenhalgh explained it.

"Let's say you want to call someone in New York," he began. "First of all, you would dial the area code number for New York, 2-1-2."

"Then, say the number you want there is Murray Hill 8-9-00, so you would dial that number."

"BUT ONCE you dialed the digits MU 8, the call would be sent to the particular telephone office in New York that serves Murray Hill numbers."

"By finishing the number with 9000, you would reach the particular phone you were calling—all of it in a matter of seconds," he said.

While you were talking, a special accounting machine back in the Orinda office, would be recording all the necessary billing information—the time of the call, the numbers at both ends of the line.

The machine records such information by punching a series of tiny holes into a spool of paper tape. It's all in code, but later the tape is fed into still other machines which mark down the information on your monthly telephone bill.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By ROSE HAWKINS
AT 3-2931

Dorothea and George Cummings spent last weekend in the Berkeley area with her mother, with Allan and Kirk in tow. They had just returned from a camping week on the Russian River—found a tent a little cramped where they were caught in that Monday storm.

Previously to that they had had a week at U. C. Alumni camp, Lair of the Bear. They are beginning to feel at home in Whittier and feel lucky that they found the nicest place in Southern California to live.

KEN "SCOTTY" SCOTT, along with his wife Virginia and their boys Denny and Chris, left Flora Court June 21 for 10 nice days at Lake Tahoe—Logan's Resort, at the south end of the Lake.

Besides the sandy beach they had the luxury of a heated pool—but the boys and pop's main love was to pierce fish from early dawn. Chris created quite a stir when he caught a 28" ten pound lake trout. A visiting cousin and her daughter from Denver were given the grand tour of the Bay Area when they visited the Scotts in July, seeing the bridges swathed in fog, the beach, Chinatown, Muir Woods, Stinson Beach, etc. The fish were running in the Pacific Ocean with the San Francisco shoreline dotted with fishermen reeling in the fish left and right.

A SHARK GAVE Scotty quite a time off of Capitola, eating part of his catch hanging over the side of his boat, but before he could capsize the boat he was gotten in hand.

Bob and Ethel Croke vacationed at Twain Harte with little Stephen and Jimmy. They had peaceful restful days at the lakeshore every day, but they did manage a side trip to Pinecrest where they enjoyed a boat ride around Strawberry Lake.

Carol Anslee has just returned from two weeks at Lake Tahoe where she enjoyed lake swimming when she wasn't busy.

THE JONES FAMILY has just returned from a month's travels through 15 states. While Channing flew off attending to business, Janet, Leslie and Bo visited Janet's brother at Lake Erie for two weeks. The Jones family now converged in Columbus, Ohio for a family reunion of the Jones boys!

The brothers came from Baltimore and Staten for a reunion at their mother's home. After speaking at the American Nurserymen's Association Convention, Channing drove the family on to Carlsbad and Phoenix, where he had to fly to L.A. for a week. Janet drove Leslie and Bo home through the desert.

SOUTHERN California, here we come, said the Parker family—they didn't miss anything as they toured through Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Marineland, Disneyland, San Clemente Beach where they visited Helen's brother, La Jolla, San Diego Zoo and Tijuana, Mexico. They had to get back in 11 days to get Martha packed and ready for two weeks at the Girl Scout Sierra Woodlands camp.

Doug Parker will be busy now getting ready to enter San Francisco State College, where he will major in Language Arts for the next four years, and will be active in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Glen Christiansen is working for the summer at Bucks Lake. The wee guest spending lots of time with Maxine and Orlo while Glen is rooming in their grandson Scott Merkle, the son of Dian Christiansen Merkle and Jack Merkle.

JAN RODDICK returned from six weeks in Ogden, Utah and the Wyoming wilds just in time to spend a few days at home before he left with his grandparents for a stay at their Soledad ranch. Oertel Roddick then left for a week at Napa Valley Ranch Club with Bonnie and four of her sister Mary's children. Jan's greatest experience was bow and arrow hunting in Wyoming.

Bill and Grace Siefker took Pat and Bob on a wonderful tour with Victoria, B. C. as their destination. Leaving July 5 with 11 days on the Redwood Highway, they visited Oregon Caves, Mt. Rainier, which was clear and beautiful and which provided good hiking and onto a ferry in Washington through islands on to Sydney, B. C., where sightseeing was abundant on the back roads to Victoria and where they discovered Canadian pleasure havens. After golf and sightseeing in Victoria, they came back by Crater Lake, Susanville, Reno and Tahoe.

PAT SIEFKER is now at Lake Tahoe for two weeks. She is planning to enter College of the Holy Names in the fall for which she received $350 scholarship from the college. She also received a $100 cash award for being the best general student in Acalanes High School.

Esther and Hi Roe flew to Seattle for a convention of Carnation Co.'s Fresh Milk and Ice Cream Division at its beautiful new home plant. Esther enjoyed the ferry trip to Vancouver and the renewal of acquaintances of her years in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Margaret is not seeing much of Dick as his tanker is with the Sixth Fleet in the East Mediterranean area. As a matter of fact the tankers left port with no opportunity for the men leaving their watches to say goodbye to their wives and families.

Goldman Serves Firm Long Time

Alec Goldman, 907 Village Center, Lafayette, has completed 40 years' service with the Standard Oil Company of California family. Goldman, manager of traffic for California Shipping Company, joined the Standard organization in 1918 as a junior clerk. In 1948 he was transferred to New York as superintendent of charters and traffic and later as manager for Overseas Tankship Corporation. He returned to the West Coast in July of last year when he joined Cal Shipping.

Lafayette Man Awarded Watch

James W. Goodwin, special sales representative at the Kraft Foods branch in San Francisco, was honored for 25 years of service with the company Saturday. The award, a specially engraved gold watch, was presented by H. G. Carne, products sales manager. Goodwin lives at 3319 Springfield Road, Lafayette.

Church Sponsors Bible School

Daily Vacation Bible School at the Lafayette Covenant Church at Brook St. and Moraga Road is scheduled from August 18 through August 22. The daily sessions will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Children are asked to bring their own lunches. An offering will be taken daily.

Children from kindergarten age through the eighth grade are invited to attend and to take part in the activities planned for their age group. There will be Bible lessons and stories, memory work, singing, handicrafts, and games at recess.

A closing program will be held on August 22 at 7:30 p.m. with children participating and displaying their handicraft.

Monahans on Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Odie Monahan of Orinda are enjoying a vacation trip during which they have visited Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and planned to go to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, after visiting Yellowstone National Park, according to word received by friends here.

A photo by Dave Ogden, Sun staff photographer, of an Indian ceremony in San Jose appears in the current issue of "Ford Spiegel," (Ford Mirror) personnel magazine of the Ford Motor Co. published in Amsterdam, Holland. The photo is published under the title, "Al Deze Veren Bekekenen Vriendschap!" which means, according to a letter received by Dave from the magazine's editor, "All these feathers mean friendship."

The letter declares, "Doing editorial work of the 'Ford Spiegel' we see many photographs of several qualities and therefore we feel justified to congratulate you on your photograph, which we dare to judge as a very excellent one."

The picture shows Dave's father, Paul Ogden, personnel manager of the Ford Motor Co. plant in San Jose, during a ceremony in which she was honored for his efforts in helping Indians.

Orindan Handles Art Publicity

At a recent general meeting, the Oakland Artists Center Gallery, 3124 Lakeshore, Oakland, appointed S. E. Moray of Castro Valley, and Kay Leffee of Orinda to act as co-chairman, publicity, for this newly-formed artists cooperative, the first of its kind in Oakland.

Kay Leffee, Oakland advertising writer, is in private life wife of David Clay Jones of Orinda, engineer-turned-sculptor, whose work in wood has been seen locally at the Diablo Pageant of Arts, in Sausalito and at Blundell's on College Avenue, Berkeley, and is currently on view at the Oakland Artists Center Gallery.

The gallery opened its doors for the first time last month to serve as an outlet for the sale and exhibition of works of art at reasonable prices. Paintings may be taken out on approval, on payment of a small deposit, and a rental gallery is also being planned, so that patrons may enjoy pictures and sculptures at a nominal monthly fee.

Oil Group Wins Exhibit Award

The first place trophy for the best exhibit under the Light Industry classification was awarded to the East-West Oil Information Committee group of Contra Costa County at the Antioch Fair.

Supervisor W. J. "Bud" Buchanan presented the award to Vernon Axelson, Orinda, Chairman of the East Contra Costa County group and Barney Knox, Concord, Chairman of the West Contra Costa County group.

Personnel of all oil companies doing business in Contra Costa County are represented in this group.

Riflery Award Won

Jack Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe T. Hughes Jr., 98 Diablo View, Orinda, received the sharpshooter medal in riflery at the summer school camp at Shattuck School, Faribault, Minn. He was a member of the champion athletic team in the senior group.

Attends Course

Joseph William Lang of 17 Tarry Lane, Orinda, salesman for John Loop, realtor of Orinda, attended the annual real estate appraisal demonstration case-study course at the University of Southern California August 4-16.

Garbage Is A Problem in More Ways Than Just One

Garbage is one thing most of us don't spend very much time thinking about.

Occasionally you will hear the expression, "That's a lot of garbage," which means of course, that it is worth nothing.

Well, the statement isn't quite accurate. Garbage is worth something. It is a means of livelihood to a fair number of Contra Costa residents who operate garbage concerns and work for them. It means money to the homeowner—each of us—because we have to pay to have it hauled away.

And furthermore, it is messy and stinks if we don't have it hauled away.

ALL RIGHT, THEN what is all the fuss about? Sure, the garbageman comes around every week and empties the can—usually before most of us are out of the sack—and that's the end of it, except for the occasional bill that gets dropped in the mail box.

At the moment there is quite a discussion going on in the county about how garbage should be collected, what it should cost, and who should be able to collect it.

As for the latter question, most of us would say, "Let anybody who wants the stuff collect it. I sure don't want it."

That is part of wherein lies the trouble.

AT PRESENT, with the exception of the incorporated areas of the county, garbage is on a free enterprise basis. If you want to go into the business tomorrow, and have a county business license, there's nothing to stop you.

The garbagemen are not happy about this. They want some protection on their investment, but they don't want too many controls.

Much of this material is outlined, with background, in the front section of this issue of The Sun, but some of the problems involved are worth discussing. One of the problems is free enterprise versus public control of what is essentially a public utility. If you leave your garbage stacked up, the health department will be knocking on your door pronto.

YOU'VE GOT to have it collected, or get rid of it, and there is very little competition among garbagemen, at least at present, so we in essence have a monopoly public utility operating in our communities.

Name Calling's in Season...

By BOB RAPIDA

"I think all you republicans are a bunch of antiquated stuffed shirts," the draftsman said to the foreman.

"Well, you pink-coated, donkey tail, look at who's talking," the foreman blurted back.

COMMON TALK these days with politics highly played by radio, TV and newspapers. Commentaries run wild on the ills of the nation and world. Commentators carry on with cumbersome reports on investigations of the investigators conducting the investigations.

How much is truth or fiction? Digressing slightly from the plan of world shaking politics common conversation on commute buses often leads to mass denunciation of county policies, politicians and/or city councils.

VOTERS IN MANY cases find themselves going to the polls casting their ballots for someone because their commute partner said "Oh! He's honest as the day is long," or "He's dedicated," because he knows a guy who got a card.

Our partner friend holds this opinion from a friend who once met a fellow whose wife lived next door to the candidate's father-in-law.

In central Contra Costa we are very fortunate in having, as in many other suburban areas, extremely active political action groups.

The Young Republicans and Young Democrats in the area are very active.

In the Lafayette and Orinda area the republican groups seems to be more vigorous whereas in Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek the young democrats seem to hold the edge.

How about rates. If you live in Orinda it costs you $1.75 per month to have your garbage picked up once a week. More for extra garbage or lawn trimmings and such.

In Lafayette and Pleasant Hill and the unincorporated areas surrounding Walnut Creek, including Alamo, it is $1.50. In the Walnut Creek City limits it is $1.

Not much difference, but some. How come? Walnut Creek is franchised on a five year term by the city. Guaranteed garbage collection, hence the $1. rate.

In the other areas, the rates are set by the garbage companies. One could suppose that garbage collection is more expensive in Orinda because of all the hills and winding roads, and thus account for the difference in rates. This, of course, may not be true.

Now, the garbagemen of the county want exclusive licensing, so that they are protected, but they don't want all the state controls that go with a franchising system. Hence you will hear more about "licensing" as opposed to "franchising" in the future.

THERE IS NO reason to believe that we wouldn't continue to get good, reasonable garbage collection if the free enterprise system were left in effect, as it is now. After all, why should the garbageman be protected by a "territory." Most other businesses certainly are not.

On the other hand, in the control of the board of supervisors, perhaps rates could be studied and the system arranged so that we residents would be insured of equitable rates for the continuation of our stay in Contra Costa County.

We would also be guaranteed that garbage would be collected at a certain time and in a certain manner. If failure occurred, the garbage collector would forfeit bond and could lose his franchise or license.

WHICH SYSTEM should we operate under? There are obvious merits to both. It will be interesting to see what kind of ordinance the supervisors consider, and there will be public hearings, columns of The Sun are always open for

If you have an opinion on this, the comment, and a word to your supervisor might not be amiss.

What do you think?

Local campaigns for county offices seem to have a terrific cadre of working helpers backing particular candidates.

IT'S ALL well and good to throw rocks at the national and international politics, but do you really know what it's all about?

If you are a democrat, contact the nearest central committee member and he'll give you a job. If you don't know who it is, give The Sun a call and we'd be glad to give you his name. By the same token if you're a republican and are interested we'll lead you to your republican central committeeman.

The same thing holds true for county elections. Don't let yourself and your friends take George's word for a candidate's qualifications, go find out first hand.

There'll be plenty of chances to meet most of the local candidates and more than a lion's share of work to be done if you are convinced.

POLITICAL MEETINGS are educational, instructive and a great way of meeting new friends or finding people with similar problems from different communities.

Once you have broken the ice, you'll find there are many ways to help the party or candidate of your choice. If you can't give time you can give money to support the type of government you want in office.

In short, as the Advertising Council of America urges, "Support the Candidate of YOUR Choice! Don't Pass the Buck—Give a Buck to YOUR Political Party."

Who, ME?

by Robert Osborn

There were more traffic casualties last year than ever before in history: 37,600 killed and 2,090,000 injured. Only YOU can prevent accidents!

Look Out for that JAZZ At 20,000 Fathoms Below

All that jazz! Among other startling announcements ensuing from the captain of the Nautilus, is the information that the historic cruise beneath the polar ice cap was accompanied by 96 hours of juke box rhythms.

THIS IS AS ASTOUNDING as learning that there are non-magnetic navigational instruments undisturbed by the polar magnetic field, which enabled the sub to cut a straight path beneath the ice and snow.

The captain said that he interrupted the jam session just once, to announce to the crew that the mission had been accomplished.

The captain of the Nautilus is a man of very stern stuff. His nerves are as of steel.

I CAN SCARCELY concentrate on the simplest of tasks without sneakily turning down the volume on the hi-fi.

This does not go un-noticed by my crew. They make light remarks to the effect that the volume has been turned so low that you can't really enjoy the music.

While the captain navigated his craft beneath the polar cap, I wonder if he turned down the volume once or twice?

Or did he twiddle his non-magnetic navigational aids amidst the full volume of the background music?

TO THE END of my days I shall marvel whenever I think of the 96 hour juke-box session beneath the Arctic.

Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep, the Nautilus and her rollicking crew, rolling historically beneath the polar cap and all that jazz!

County United Crusade Goal Set at $502,792

Residents of Contra Costa will be asked to make gift donations totaling $502,792 during the 1958 United Crusade campaign starting September 22. Jack Mullen, general campaign chairman, announced today.

In making the announcement Mullen stated, "There can be no reasonable doubt that this county goal represents basic minimum needs in order to maintain current levels of service and to eliminate the need for supplementary fund raising by member agencies."

"THE BOARD of Governors of the United Bay Area Crusade and county representatives starting with each agency board and working through county budget committees to the UBAC allocations Committee and the Executive Committee realized that this year's goal represents minimum needs in order to maintain current levels of service.

Duncan Knudsen, president of Contra Costa United Crusade said, "We believe this goal can be met as our countywide organization has more background and experience, and if we use the available tools, our goal will be attainable."

"We have the ingredients needed for success—a strong, realistic appeal; a compelling need to serve more people adequately; people financially able to give the money; and thousands of dedicated volunteers. It is therefore up to us to tell the story of the Crusade in this crucial year and this we believe is being done. There is no question but that we have more people aware of what we are trying to do. Therefore, we are looking forward to this being our best campaign."

"THIS GOAL—which is 16.35 per cent over last year's monies received—has been broken down on the local levels as follows: For East Contra Costa (Pittsburg, Antioch and Delta areas) $84,110; for Central Contra Costa (Diablo Valley, Concord, Martinez) $156,002; for West Contra Costa (Richmond, El Cerrito, San Pablo, El Sobrante, Pinole, Rodeo and Crockett) $262,680.

A total of 55 agencies in the county will benefit, from this year's drive.

These are Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation; Contra Costa and West Contra Costa Cerebral Palsy Association; U.S.O.; American Red Cross; Community Chest of West Contra Costa; Boy Clubs of El Cerrito, Richmond, San Pablo, Martinez and Pittsburg; Camp Fire Girls; Catholic Social Service; Community Welfare Council; Crockett Playgroup; Girl Scout Councils; Boy Scout Councils; Guidance for Retarded Children.

OTHERS ARE Herrick Memorial Hospital Clinics; Jewish Community Center of Richmond; North Richmond Neighborhood House; Salvation Army; YMCA; YWCA; Urban League; Community Welfare Councils of West, East and Central; Community Welfare Fund.

Still others are Well Baby Clinic; West Pittsburg and Shore Acres Youth Council; Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County; Concord "Learn-to-Swim"; Ministerial Fund; Mental Health Society of Central Contra Costa.

The five county United Bay Area Crusade goal has been set at $1,750,000. Other counties' goals are San Francisco $3,557,468; Alameda, $2,889,138; San Mateo, $669,784; and Marin $169,258.

More than 250 health, welfare and youth-serving agencies in all five counties will derive varying portions of their 1959 budgets from the campaign.

THE AGENCIES are community child care and family counseling services, youth programs, services for the sick, aged and handicapped, as well as Red Cross Chapters, Salvation Army Units, USO and local branches of national health appeals.

Not included in county goals is $3,961,550 to be raised by a special "blue chips" division of the campaign which will solicit corporate and individual gifts of $1000 or more.

Jack Groth Now At Lackland Air Base

Letters to The Editor

SCHOOL AND BUSES

DEAR EDITOR: As you said in an editorial this past spring, bus transportation is not more important than a good education.

Nevertheless, in an area which is a weird combination of rural and urban-streetwise, trafficwise and public transportationwise—public school transportation is a necessary adjunct to any kind of an education.

The child, in order to benefit from his school program, must be given a fair chance to travel safely between home and school, attend regularly and have some time left for homework, recreation and rest.

TRAVELING ON foot along country-style roads carrying city-heavy traffic, in rain or fog much of the school year, guarding against molestation—these are some of the additional requirements to be met by our school children this year in the Mt. Diablo district.

In the Oakland Tribune of July 20, there was an article headed "Residential Areas Held Deadly For Pedestrians." "On a nationwide basis, 36 per cent of pedestrian deaths and injuries occur in the outlying areas, according to a study by the American Automobile Association. Oakland Police Department traffic analyst Jack Knight said that the city's record concurs with the findings by the AAA's foundation for traffic safety."

KNIGHT SAID that virtually all of Oakland's pedestrian deaths have taken place in residential sections.

Nine out of every ten adults killed never had operator's licenses. The non-driving pedestrian is at a disadvantage because he has never learned the limitations of vehicles, experts claim."

Most children of school age, I submit, are also non-drivers. Considering California's traffic record, our children are at a double disadvantage because obviously many drivers also have not learned the limitations of vehicles.

I protest an action of the Mt. Diablo District which embraces the law of distances and fails any longer to consider the routes to be traversed, the weather and the total lack of local, "affordable" daily public transportation.

THE SAME conditions which is the past made public school transportation necessary still exist. In fact, with the population increase, resulting in heavier traffic and forcing more families to live greater distances from the schools, these conditions have been magnified. Even the weather has worsened, if I'm to believe assertions of native Californians.

When we questioned the abrupt reversal of a procedure which last year insisted that a child return home if he had gotten wet from rain between his home and the school bus stop, and which this year requires that same child to walk over two miles each way regardless of weather, we were told by a school official "That is your problem." For those of us who don't drive or don't have a car available, that is quite a problem.

IF BAD WEATHER such as we experienced last year causes absenteeism to soar, resulting in a reduction of the State Aid (financial) which is based on the daily attendance, will that too be a problem for parents and other taxpayers to wrestle with when it is budget time again?

In addition to these arguments for continued public school transportation is the announcement last week by Mt. Diablo District that the $3.20 tax rate might be lowered because of additional revenue from utility taxes.

I am not convinced by any means that we must choose between better education and public school bus transportation.

And I am not the least embarrassed at sounding like a Parent.

AUDREY MILLIKEN

THANK YOU

DEAR EDITOR: I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your paper for the splendid cooperation extended to Hansel and Gretel Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

Our fund raising events, which you have so graciously publicized, have met with the success that they have because of this. As you know, all proceeds from these events are used by the Children's Home Society to further its work in child adoption.

Thank you so very much.

MRS. C. W. RICHARDSON

Don't Follow Too Closely, Warns Patrol

A minimum of one car length for each 10 miles of speed is a good rule of thumb to use when following another car in traffic says the California Highway Patrol.

"Drivers who follow this rule, allowing additional extra distance on wet or slippery surfaces, will find it easier to avoid rear-end collisions with the car ahead," stated Captain Russell R. Magill of the Patrol's Martinez Area Office.

"Last year in California, drivers following too closely were involved in 5,083 injury and fatal accidents."

"Following another vehicle too closely, creates serious problems when the car ahead is stopped quickly in an emergency," Magill said.

"A child darting out into the highway, a dog wandering across the road, a third car cutting in, all set up situations frequently calling for quick stops."

Under The Sun

No Earth-Shaking Reports This Warm August Day

By Herman Silverman

August is a calm month. Almost everything slows down. Junior baseball programs and organized recreation grind to a halt or a very slow pace. Vacationers come and go.

Of course, the weather gets warmer. But don't complain. We only have a few really hot days and the nights are always cool.

But don't let August fool you. 'Tis only a few weeks until school begins. And only a few weeks until clubs and organizations and fall activities really begin to spin. And only a few weeks until the roar of politicians will be heard, with the general election coming early in November.

Meanwhile, my file folder is beginning to overflow with newspaper clips and notes. Let's look in the folder:

Don't let this happen

Here's a newspaper article that should make some of you think. Quote: Contra Costa County's first case of paralytic polio in 1958 was reported July 22 by H. L. Blum, M.D., county health officer. The polio victim is a 43-year-old father who was not protected by polio immunization. He is suffering with paralysis of both legs. End of quote.

I'll be subtle and not add comment. In front of me is a copy of "California's Health," a bulletin distributed by the California Department of Public Health. The first item of interest:

"Sitting in front of TV for prolonged periods of time may produce serious circulation troubles in the legs, including blockage by blood clots."

An important service

The front page article reviews "The Psychiatric Service of Contra Costa County." Did you know the county has such a service, including outpatient clinic? I vaguely have heard of it. If you wish to find out more, call the County Health Department. (You perhaps know that the schools have some consultation service available.) The Sun will dig into this more and present an article in the future.

That ends our Medical Dissertation for the day.

You've heard this story before but here goes anyway. Do you have a legitimate criticism of government in the county—local districts, city, county? Do you have unpublished information which would help improvement?

Then, take this documented criticism to YOUR COUNTY GRAND JURY. The grand jury, composed of private citizens, is the citizens' check on government. Too often, a grand jury committee writes, at the end of a year's work: "No complaints or problems were received during the year."

I don't mean that we should pester the County Grand Jury with vague rumors and crackpot ideas. If, however, you have facts about a problem affecting government, then present the information to the jury via letter or an appearance.

They are only people

Don't let the term "Grand Jury" scare you. The jurors are people like yourself. An "appearance" may mean sitting down with a committee, composed of three or four jurors to discuss the problem.

You can contact the foreman, Edward A. Valentine of El Cerrito. There are also local members of the jury—V. Craig Bull, Orinda; Mrs. Duncan C. Pell Jr. and Stewart Wade of Lafayette; Alex D. Lindsay and Elwood P. Laws of Walnut Creek; and Richard Donovan of Pleasant Hill.

Yes, no or maybe?

How are you going to vote in November on State Propositions 13 and 17—and all the others?

Proposition 13 proposes that after the next four-year term of office, the state superintendent of public instruction be appointed by the State Board of Education, with the advice and consent of the State Senate.

Proposition 17 seeks to reduce the state sales tax from 3 to 2 per cent and to increase the tax on higher income brackets.

These and other propositions are important. Will you vote YES or NO? The purpose of these paragraphs is to emphasize the need for study. The Sun will carry some discussion of the propositions; the big papers have stories also. Read them and make up your mind. AND that's enough for this week.

Letters to The Editor

BUS STOPS

DEAR EDITOR:

It is my contention that for the Lafayette School Board to cut out the bus service to certain sections, Moraga Road stops for an illustration of the point, is irresponsible. It is not a question of distance but of safety, as anyone who drives down Moraga Road can readily see. There is an especially bad blind curve between North Road and Silver Springs Road; the shoulders are not wide enough to permit the safe traffic of walkers, the traffic is heavy a good deal of the time and it is fast. One cannot walk on the correct side of the highway from South Mountain View Drive toward Lafayette and there is no safe place in which to cross to the opposite side of the road. Nevertheless, the school board is going to fill the highway with small children come September. These children have not been educated to walk this route and without adequate protection along the way, some of them may become traffic victims and all of them will be in danger.

Our taxes are constantly going up and yet this is the type of thing we find ourselves paying for and find our school administration defending. Oh, they point out the cut of a secretary and "some" landscaping as economy—and try to blackmail the voters into voting an increase by actions such as cutting school bus service. Or what else would one call the contention by the school board that, if increases are not made, a lot of other cuts may be made?

Where it hurts the most, of course! Since every person I have talked to on the subject is aware of the danger to children attempting to walk Moraga Road, it seems reasonable to assume that the members of the school board could be expected to recognize the same dangers. Possibly, they assume that Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Milquetoast will discuss their objections in private and "not stick their neck out," and go along with it!

Very truly yours,

SUSAN STONE

ID Cards for Evening College Students Ready

Identification cards for former students at Diablo Valley College (East Contra Costa Junior College) who plan to take classes offered in the evening this fall will be available in the college office during business hours starting Monday, according to John McKinley, registrar.

"The identification card will permit a student to register September 5," McKinley said. New students will register September 6. If a former student is unable to pick up his card during business hours, he may send a relative or friend to get it for him."

Last year's evening enrollment of 2800 is expected to be surpassed this fall. Among the fields in which courses are to be offered Monday through Thursday are English, mathematics, art, music, natural science, social science, business, electronics, applied sciences and trades.

Specific class titles, descriptions, meeting times, registration information, and other such items are included in a brochure entitled "Classes for Part-Time Students."

Copies are sent to those on the college mailing list. Others may receive copies by calling the college.

Valley Art Center Plans Exhibit Here Next Month

The annual art show sponsored by Valley Art Center will be held September 12, 13 and 14 at Orchard Nursery, Lafayette.

Displayed in the lovely outdoor setting of Orchard Nursery will be representative work of the West Coast, including sculptures, ceramics, and mosaics.

A PURCHASE PRIZE for a painting will be given by the Valley Art Center to add to its permanent collection. Exhibits will be by invitation only.

Members in charge of the Valley Art Center's 10th annual exhibit are Mrs. Burton Brody and Mrs. Freeman Bishop of Orinda, and Mrs. Robert Love of Lafayette.

Rainbow Girls Will Install, Monday Night

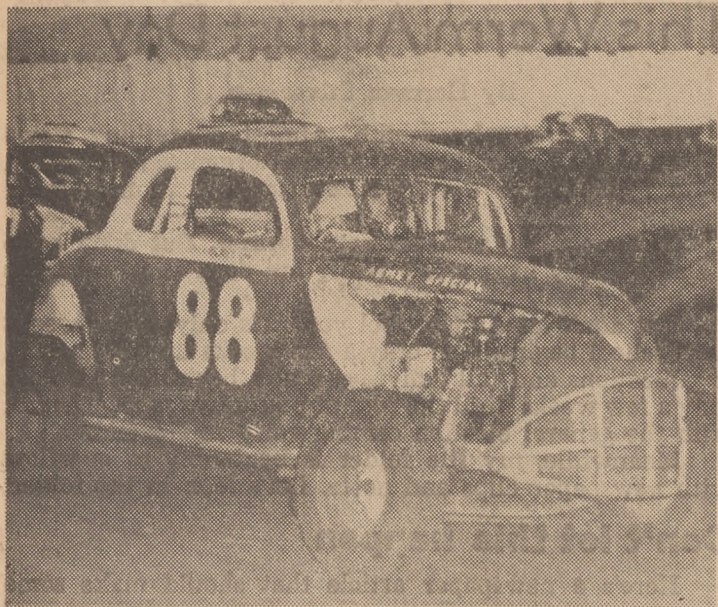

Walnut Creek Assembly No. 84 of the Rainbow Girls will hold an initiation ceremony Monday night at 7:30 in the Masonic Temple, Walnut Creek.

The group will hold a rummage sale next Thursday and August 22 at 1527 Locust Street, across from the U. S. Post Office, Walnut Creek.

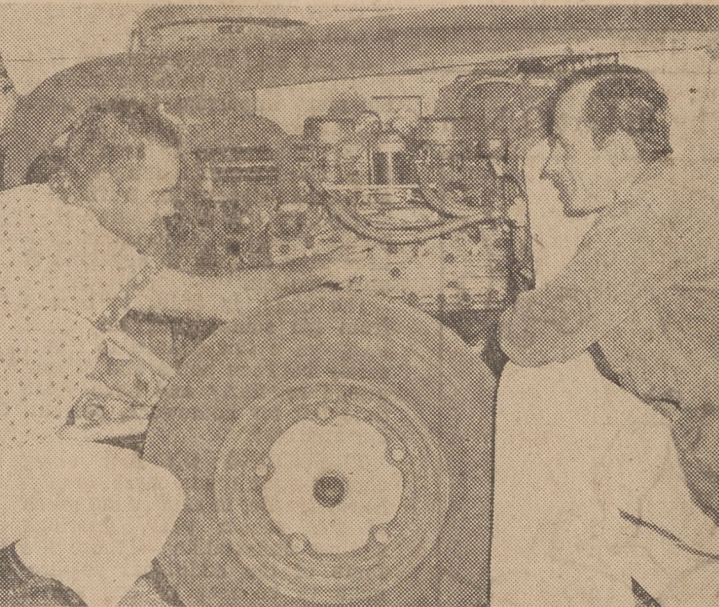

Linda Champion, worthy advisor of the assembly, has chosen for her service project collecting used or new costume jewelry for patients at the state hospital in Stockton.

The Sun Goes to the 'Hardtop' Races...

Sports

THE WORKING END of any racing team is the pit crew. Brad McGuire and Buzz Costignetto give Clayton's Big 88 the final check in the pits before race time at the Pacheco dirt track.

PLEASANT HILL Ace Jack Clayton goes into the straightaway at the Contra Costa Speedway in Pacheco. Thousands of local fans turn out to view the fast card every Saturday night.

GETTING A FEW of the finer points of the racing game from "dad" are Kathy, 10, and Lennie, Clayton. Clayton carries the tab of "Mayor of Pleasant Hill" at the speedway.

Meet the Mayor of Pleasant Hill: A Leadfoot with a Personality

By JEAN MCGUIRE

If you go to the hardtop races often, as I do, you'll soon begin to notice that there is one very outstanding driver from our own area. This personable young man is Jack Clayton of Pleasant Hill.

As a driver, Clayton shows above average ability. Quick thinking and good reflexes have gotten him out of scrapes a less endowed man would be helpless to avoid.

To be really good, a driver must be able to make split second decisions and carry them out immediately.

A few moments wasted, and his nice fast hardtop may be exchanged for an even faster ambulance.

FANS WHO GO into the pits after the races to meet the drivers, find Clayton to be one of the nicest of guys. He is interested in people, and enjoys answering any questions they may have.

Jack pays special attention to the kids, spending as much time as the youngsters request, explaining in terms they can understand, all the aspects of the racing game. And they love it!

The so called "Mayor of Pleasant Hill" started his racing career under the guidance of sprint car veteran Ernie Miller of Concord.

HE ACCOMPANIED Miller to races all over this part of the country. Sometimes driving, sometimes just observing, but learning all the time.

Clayton drove the sprints till about four years ago, when the preference for hardtops overtook him. Since then, racing enthusiasts concur he has improved visibly year by year.

Several different car owners have retained Jack as chauffeur, and last year he purchased and drove his own hardtop. But I think Clayton will be the first to agree that his present ride, number 88, is the best yet.

The red and white "bomb" is owned and was built by Al Abney of Richmond. Number 88 marks the first venture into car building ever attempted by Abney, and I would say he certainly hit the jackpot!

WORKING LONG HOURS at a service station, and keeping a car running as hot as 88 does, is no cinch for anyone. Al deserves much credit.

Also to be congratulated are the pit men, whose work continues long after Saturday Night's race also. Buzz Costignetto, chief mechanic, is an ex-hardtop driver himself.

Leg injuries, the result of a racing accident several years ago, have taken him out of contention on the track, but the game is still in his blood. And as far as keeping a car running right, Buzz has a talent that just won't quit.

BRAD MCGUIRE, relief driver and mechanic from Concord, is a comparative newcomer to hardtops, having worked as a member of Clayton's pit crew for almost three years.

McGuire is quickly grasping the fundamentals of driving, already having 2 races under his belt this season. He shows great promise, and with a little more experience has the makings of a really good chauffeur.

Jack Clayton has consistently run among the fastest qualifying cars on the track, and we hope to see him among the top ten point leaders of Bay Cities Racing Association before the season closes.

Napa Flyer Nabs Trophy At Speedway

"The Napa Flyer" Gene Dudley proved he was aptly named last Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway. Dudley blazed around the quarter mile track in 15.78 seconds, shattering the previous record of 15.97 seconds set last year by Hugh Purdy of Santa Rosa.

A little added excitement was supplied during the time trials by Cliff Bennett in car number 25. He blew a rear tire coming around the pit turn and flipped over twice. Neither he nor the car were damaged however, and both returned for the second heat and the main event.

IN THE FIRST HEAT, Concord's Jack Huddleston in car 49 took second place. This was the first time Jack has driven 49 and he did a really fine job of driving. Doe Payne, veteran driver from Concord stole the show however, in a brilliant display of speed, handling and exceptional piloting. His black Dyas Brothers Special number 36, took first in the third heat, second in the trophy dash, and second in the main event. I have never seen Doe look better. Payne, if you remember, was involved in a bad smashup two weeks ago, and many of us thought he'd be out of commission for quite a while.

But he has come back even stronger than ever, and I'm sure I'm not alone in extending him a huge congratulation.

ACE PILOT, Joe Valente from Berkeley, gave everyone a bad scare in the fourth heat. Joe was hit and knocked into a triple roll on the far straightaway. Usually a driver will signal immediately that he's all right and jump out of the car, but not a sign was given by Valente. The ambulance crew and pit men had to work for long minutes to finally extricate him.

As it turned out, Valente's foot was caught making it impossible for him to move. He suffered ankle injuries but was not seriously hurt. It's amazing how that huge crowd reacts when they think there's something wrong. You can hear a pin drop in the stadium.

Tomorrow's program carries the usual 25 lap main event. Time trials at 7, first race at 8:15.

Haws-Cook Team Wins Low Net Golf Tournament

Low net honors for the Orinda Country Club's two-day ladies golf invitational last week went to Mrs. Terry Haws of the home club and Mrs. Persis Cooke of Castlewood.

Mrs. Haws and Mrs. Cooke had a net 130 for the 36 holes. They scored 65-65-130 in the best ball of twosome event, 14 under par. A COCKTAIL PARTY and buffet luncheon Sunday ended the two-day event, in which 106 women took part.

General chairman was Mrs. Arthur Somers. Others handling arrangements were Mrs. Aubrey Sweet, captain; Mrs. Dan Corter, secretary; Mrs. Frank Fee, treasurer; Mrs. George Thomas, tournament chairman; Mrs. William Baughman, handicapper, and Mrs. Charles Thomson, publicity.

Riders Score 45-0 Win Over Marines In Opener

Biggest problem for Coach Lou Coccimiglio of the Contra Costa Riders on the eve of tomorrow's game with Petaluma in Pittsburg was whom to cut from his temporary squad of 36.

The Riders showed their power by rolling up a 45-0 score against the Alameda Marine Reserves last Saturday at Alhambra field, and Coccimiglio said every player showed real ability.

YET THERE'S only equipment enough for 31 players, and cuts have to be made, Coccimiglio said.

His Riders scored once in each period and didn't let the Marines past the 35-yard line after the first quarter.

Surprise player of the game was Halfback Robert Hilton, one of the few Riders without an established grid reputation, who averaged nearly six yards per carry and was outstanding on defense.

LED BY FULLBACK Ollie McClay and Halfback Frank Aiello, the Riders gained 303 yards rushing, and lost only two yards for a net of 301 yards.

The Marines gained 91 yards, lost 23 and wound up with a net effort of 68 on the ground.

McClay and Aiello were the

'Forty-Niners' Thrill 3000 At Saint Mary's Campus

The San Francisco Forty-Niners drew more than 3000 fans to the Moraga campus of Saint Mary's for the first full scale scrimmage of the season Saturday.

Seven touchdowns were scored during the afternoon with ball carriers netting 196 yards on 33 tries.

JOHN GONZAGA, former Mt. Diablo High School star, was a minor casualty, suffering a broken finger on his right hand while working his spot in the defensive line.

Hugh McElhenney went for long chunks of ground before getting nabbed and fans look to a top-notch season from the fleet-footed halfback.

Little Joe Arenas pleased the fans with his seat back activities. JOE SAT DOWN on the grass to chat with reporters during the full-back play.

Defensive halfback is nothing new to Arenas, who is seeking to fill a big weakness there. He had played it often until 1955 when the late Red Strader began using him for key situations instead.

Then returning kickoffs because they are Joe's specialty he placed second in the National League during the 1956 and 1957 campaigns for most yardage redeemed.

But he filtered into the lineup at times as a ball carrier or would pop up as a pass-receiver. Arenas recalls—vaguely—that he "Mr. Arenas, you have just told had a head-on collision with rough us that you don't get to play Les Richter of the Rams "but I enough football and yet you an didn't pass out until I was back nounced after last season you on the sidelines." And there have been retiring," the reporter seen other crashes.

SF Beats Orinda In Tennis Match

San Francisco's Junior Wightman Cup tennis team scored an 8-1 victory over Orinda here Saturday.

Only winner for Orinda was Caryn Anderson with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Hedy Shipman.

Marilynn Mannheim (S.F.) d. Judy Hopkins, 6-0, 2-6, 6-3; Carol Carmiglia (S.F.) d. Liz Hart, 6-1, 6-1; Noreen Segerquist (S.F.) d. Diane Traverso, 6-1, 6-2; Eve Filippis (S.F.) d. Chris Sharp, 6-2, 6-1; Barbara Mannheim (S.F.) d. Sue Skaggs, 6-1, 6-3; Caryn Anderson (O.) d. Hedy Shimaii, 6-4, 6-1.

DOUBLES — Marilyn Mannheim-Carmiglia (S.F.) d. Hopkins-Hart, 6-3, 6-3; Segerquist-Filippis (S.F.) d. Connie Cook-Adele Brodinski, 6-0, 6-0; Gloria Segerquist-Marcia Trethwey (S.F.) d. Diane and Nancy Bouhaben, 6-2, 6-3.

Orinda Parkers Beat PH Team

Coach Jerry Hays' Orinda Park swim team defeated the Pleasant Hill swim team in an exciting meet August 6. The event took place at the Orinda Park Pool.

During the first part of the meet, Pleasant Hill was in the lead, but the Orinda Park team crept up slowly but surely to defeat the PH team by a score of 206-195.

Top honors were taken by Chris Shurtleff, 8 and under girls; Barbie Brush, 14 and under girls; and Wayne Webster, 14 and under boys, who were three-event winners. Two-event winners were Kim Olsen, 10 and under boys, and Diane Kersten, 17 and under girls.

Heather Branch to Hold Show at Breuner Estate

It'll be Round-Up time in Orinda Wednesday, September 17, when Heather Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay holds its annual Western ranch-themed Round-Up Luncheon and fashion show at the R. V. Breuner's estate, 515 Minor Road.

Red, farmhouse-styled table cloths will cover the luncheon tables, which will be set up in the Breuners' trees-shaded patio and along the lawn which sweeps from the house to the swimming pool. Crisp white daisies will be arranged in centerpiece bouquets for the 12:30 p.m. al fresco, for may be secured from Mrs. Smith, which home cooked fried chicken will be served in individual baskets with old fashioned biscuits "on the side."

FASHIONS FROM three leading shops in the valley will be presented. The shops are Virginia Hammond's of Orinda, Heaven to Eleven of Orinda and Moraga, and Nipkow's of Walnut Creek. Participating models will be Mrs. Gordon E. French of Cedar Junior, Mrs. Calvin Hagstrom of Hilltop Branch, Mrs. Stephen Shutt of Foothill, Mrs. Robert Warner of Cottonwood and Mrs. Emerson Wiser of Alder. Also modeling will be Miss Lois L. Bacon, Mrs. Philip Muchsid, and Mrs. Robert Rowe.

CHAIRMAN OF the Round-Up Luncheon, proceeds from which will benefit the hospital's charitable program of part-pay assistance for needy children, is Mrs. Heber H. Smith Jr. of Orinda. Tickets to this hospital benefit may be secured from Mrs. Smith, CL 4-3824 or from Mrs. Paul Larsen of Lafayette, YE 4-8069.

In the contingent of hostesses from the branch will be the chairman of Heather, Mrs. Munson B. Everett of Lafayette; Mrs. Robert Niebel of Piedmont, vice chairman; Mrs. George A. Eichelberger of Lafayette, secretary; and Mrs. Philip Joy of Orinda, treasurer.

PLANNING the Mexican Fiesta to be held Sunday afternoon, August 24, in the Elks Club in Walnut Creek are members of the Fiesta Committee. They are (from left) Maria Alba, Blanca Lujan, Bertha Lujan, Maria Louisa Carvejal, Blanche Corona and Lupe Chavez. Proceeds will go into a scholarship fund for students of Mexican descent. —Sun Photo by Dave Ogden.

Ann Rowland Marries Bill Needham

Wedding rites attended by many friends and relatives united Ann Volney Rowland of Walnut Creek and William S. Needham of Lafayette, August 2 in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek.

Ann was given away by her father, Ernest Rowland. She wore a gown fashioned of Dupione silk with a scalloped scoop neckline of re-embroidered alencon lace and short sleeves.

The molded bodice was caught at the hips with appliques of re-embroidered lace. The bouffant skirt flowed gracefully into a sweep train.

Her bouquet was of white garden roses with double bouvardia. A halo of the double bouvardia held the veil in place.

Ann was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Graves (nee Mimi Rowland) of Walnut Creek, matron of honor, and also the groom's sister, Mrs. Thomas Dillard of Visalia, and Miss Lenore Lamb of Orinda, Vickie Sue Graves, Ann's niece, was the flower girl.

Rev. Mr. Wilfred Hodgkin performed the ceremonies. Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Edward Rowland, offered their home at 50 Jeanette Court for a garden reception.

St. Mary's Guild To Hold Auction

The St. Mary's College Guild will sponsor a silent auction and tea at the Palace of The Legion of Honor, located atop Lincoln Park, overlooking the Golden Gate, on Wednesday, October 15. This new event replaces the annual rummage sale, usually held in the month of October, as the major fund-raising project of the guild. Proceeds of these activities provide scholarships to send worthy young men to St. Mary's College.

NEITHER CARDS nor a swimming pool are in evidence, but nevertheless it is a card and swim party being planned here by members of the League of Jewish Women. Left to right are Mesdames Arthur Dresfield, Marvyn Silberman and Arthur Scharlach. The party will be Wednesday at the Walnut Creek home of Mrs. Mary Collen.

IN JERUSALEM at entrance to St. George's Cathedral are the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Cardwell. Mrs. Cardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Inman-Knabe of Lafayette, is a teacher in Sidon Girls School, and her husband is dean of the Near East School of Theology in Beirut, Lebanon. They were married in Jerusalem recently.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

Some of the units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center sort of "close shop" during the summer months but not the "Robins". Recently they sponsored two consecutive luncheons—one at Verita (Mrs. K. J.) Weinheimer's home on Normandy Lane in Concord, the other at Ruby (Mrs. M. F.) Ohman's home on Pine Hollow Road, also in Concord.

For these affairs the members prepare all sorts of delicious dishes and, following lunch, they and their guests either play card games or swim or just plain relax. Now the "girls" are busy with plans for their annual informal September dance. This one will be on the 13th at the Meadowbrook Country Club and will be called an "International Holiday". Members are frantically seeking flags of all nations. A full evening is in store with dinner, dancing and swimming on the program. Apparently there will be some terrific prizes and lots of fun for sure.

No golf widow here, by golly!

Gertie and Albert Fassero must REALLY love golf for they spent each day during a two week's vacation commuting to the "Silverado Golf and Country Club" where they really "did the greens". Have heard so much about that fabulous place lately—particularly from Carol and Dee Peterson and Bobbye and Bill McGuire.

The main building is a huge southern mansion surrounded by lovely cottages and tremendous, towering oaks. One may dine either in the main dining room through which a sparkling stream runs or at charming outdoor tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weinheimer of Concord are on their way home from Europe at last! They've been there since last May and have covered just about every bit of terrain possible. Accompanying them home will be their daughter, Doris, who attended the University of Vienna last year. This will be welcome news to her many, many friends here.

Betty and Ellis Cripe and their beautiful blonde children have returned from a three weeks motor trip. They especially enjoyed the fishing at Yellowstone National Park. In Indiana and Illinois many friends and relatives were visited.

Peggy and Alan Young, daughter Denise and son Stan are vacationing at Oceanside in Southern California. They will visit other interesting places in that area before returning. Peggy is doing such a fine job these days with her direction of Sunday School classes for mentally retarded children. Naturally she finds it most rewarding.

Mildred and Harold Mumford spent most of their vacation having a complete rest at Turlock Lake State Park which is in complete contrast to busy Elton Butler who has just returned from a month's hectic and wonderful tour with the Cal Band.

Back from two weeks at Lake Tahoe

Reverend and Mrs. James (Jim and Gwen to most) Upshaw and their little ones, Midge, Jim, Sue and Ann, are back from two weeks at Zephyr Point, Lake Tahoe. Most of Jim's "vacation" was spent with hammer and saw for they will, eventually, be the proud owners of a cabin right on the lake.

Elsie and Russell Pigott and family spent a week at Lake Tahoe where their daughter is working at Conference grounds for the summer. Fran and John Anderson and little Sally are in Washington where they are visiting with Fran's sister and the Irvin Lees are in Iowa where they will spend three weeks with Irvin's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Clark have enjoyed visits from several members of their family. Captain and Mrs. Lester Clark plus three children were here for a while. They are stationed at Langley Field, Virginia. Following them were Rev. and Mrs. Harold Foster, also plus three, who lived in Weed, California.

The Ted Rouses celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in July. They were feted by several groups of friends and relatives. Presently they are touring through the Black Hills in South Dakota. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bashford and Sue and Patty spent a week's vacation camping at Clark's Fort and the Paul Grahams recently entertained relatives from Florida.

And we're touring the southland...

Jewish Women Card Party is Wednesday

The League of Jewish Women, Sisterhood of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, will hold a card and swim party on Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Maury Collen, 4155 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek. A tempting dessert has been planned by Hospitality Chairman Ardith Dresfield. President Helen Sherman will conduct a brief meeting.

Guest and future members are invited to attend.

For information contact Mrs. Mervyn Silberman.

Cottonwood Branch Plans Party, Sept. 6

The Cottonwood Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay will hold its annual cocktail party on September 6 at the home of Mrs. George T. Jackson, 24 Owl Hill Court, Orinda.

It will begin at 5 p.m. Theme will be "Cotton Pickin' Cocktail Party."

Chairman is Mrs. Gene Hopper. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Fred Buffey.

Force Base, Oxnard and Los Angeles and the Earl Beard family had a wonderful, gay vacation camping at Clear Lake. The Edgar Halls recently entertained their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson who hail from Madison, Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grater and Margaret vacationed at Devil's Post Pile (what?) National Park and also at Yosemite where their daughter, Barbara, joined them.

The Jack Long family has just returned from a week's camping trip to Soda Springs. And then there are the Ben Osbornes who, with daughter Linda, have left for a month's trip. Mainly they will visit with Mrs. Osborne's parents in Colorado. Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Van Nuys and young Kris spent their vacation in Oregon where they visited with relatives. The Ed Wagners have had as their guests the Ray Hill family from Des Moines, Iowa. Mrs. Hill is Mrs. Wagner's daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher and children spent a week at the Cal Alumni Camp at Pinecrest and then went to Santa Cruz for a week's stay with Carl's parents. Also at the Camp were Rosemary and Bob Caldwell and young sons. The Don Loeffler family is visiting with relatives in Southern California.

Whooooo! Did you wade through that vacation news alright? Hope you're still with me for it's time to get back to "dinner-danceable" talk.

Flicker frolic was full of fun

Every year 'bout this time the Flicker unit has its "Frolic" and this year's was by far the best. It was held at Turtle Rock Ranch and the evening was warm and lovely. A really lavish barbequed dinner was served followed by hours of dancing with some members and guests enjoying the pool.

Cleverly dressed, life-size scarecrows decorated the grounds giving the affair a strictly informal atmosphere. Chic Muriel Alexander drew raves wearing a full, full skirted cotton printed with huge red roses and all eyes were on Jane (Mrs. Frederick) Hansen who wore slinky beige torreador trousers with a stunning black blouse. Connie Goldeen looked "buttercupish" in yellow.

There, too, were the Leo Kienys, Howard Burks, Bob Fugazis (Maralyn was chairman), Jack Gordons, Vance Perrys, Ray Williams (Nancy wore a darling blue, plaid, cotton chemise), Buck Johnsons and Richard Liebers.

Physical therapist (and pretty, too) Dora Cochrane and her mother, Mrs. Kathleen Cochrane spent two fun filled weeks at Lake Almanor where they stayed with the C. E. Roberts. Days were filled with swimming, boating and water skiing—and much teasing about the fact that Dora just couldn't master the later. Her fiancé, Walt Grens spent one week-end with them.

This is Third Wedding for Gina, 9 1/2

Gina Horstkotte, 9 1/2, will be a junior bridesmaid at the wedding of her uncle, San Francisco Police Officer Roger B. Martin, and Miss Rita Lynch, who recently announced their engagement.

Officer Martin is a brother of Mrs. Gerry Horstkotte of 3178 Withers Avenue, Lafayette. Both Martin and Miss Lynch are residents of San Francisco.

For Gina, "... this will be her third wedding in three years..." commented her mother. The wedding will take place August 23 at the Carmel Mission.

The bride's brother, Father Daniel Lynch, will officiate at the ceremony.

Shower Is Given For Bride-Elect

A linen shower for bride-to-be Karen Kooyman of Orinda was given by her maid of honor, Rosalie Guarnieri, also of Orinda.

Those present included Marjorie Fish, Diane Busch, Carol Brabant, Sue Auld, Barbara Reid, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. O'Brian, mother of the bridegroom and the bride's mother, Mrs. P. C. Kooyman.

Phi Mu sorority sisters attending were Joan Guyot, Phyllis Temple, Bernita Halvorsen and Cathy Bareilles.

Karen and her fiancée, Robert O'Brian of Oakland, plan to be married August 23.

Gardens Need Assistance After Summer Vacations

A vacation ends abruptly when you wake the first morning home and find a rundown garden. The first reaction is usually shock. Then comes despair, and often a tendency to blame the neighborhood boy who was left in charge of keeping things in order.

Before giving vent to these feelings, however, best stop and think. The California Association of Nurserymen reminds us that things aren't usually so bad as they look. August and late summer are traditionally doldrum months for California gardens. Things probably didn't really look so well as you remembered them when you left. And, besides, there are several steps to take that can put a garden back the way it was in no time.

THE LAWN is the first order of business. Even a well watered, green carpet detracts from the looks of things if it is shaggy and down at the edges. Mow and trim the lawn first off. Then green it up with a short of lawn food and let it soak, and soak some more. You'll begin to notice a difference in the garden right away.

Next, turn your attention to your shrubs. A thorough soaking will be in order. No matter how diligent, the person you left in charge probably failed to give your garden the long, deep drink it should have had. Temptation was probably too great just to get things wet and call it a day.

ROSES will undoubtedly need your attention. Cut back faded blooms that are going to seed, work a handful of balanced fertilizer into the soil around each bush to give it vigor for the fall bloom, and water it in. If aphids or other pests have sneaked in during your absence, break out the spray gun and launch the attack.

Chrysanthemums will need staking, and another feeding of fish emulsion will be in order. Fuchsias, especially those in containers, will need pinching if they are out of shape, as well as feeding. Camellias, azaleas and rhododendrons will be ready for another helping of food. Use either an acid fertilizer or liquid fish.

As a final step, uproot those weeds that obviously weren't bothered by your absence. Next to the shabby lawn, these probably did more than anything to produce your initial shock. And once they're gone, you realize things aren't so bad after all. At least not bad enough to ruin the memory of a good vacation.

'South Pacific' At Alexandria

Rodgers and Hammerstein's popular musical, "South Pacific," continues its exclusive Northern California engagement at the Alexandria Theater in San Francisco. Co. Filmed in breath-taking Todd AO and color, the picture stars Rossano Brazzi, Mitzi Gaynor, Juanita Hall, John Kerr, Ray Walston and France Nuyen.

All the well-known songs of the stage original are used in the film version, including "Some Enchanted Evening," "Bali Hai," "You've Got To Be Taught," "Honey Bun" and "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair." Another fine song number, "My Girl Back Home," dropped from the Broadway original due to the length of the show, has been reinstated.

Performances are nightly at 8:30, except Sundays at 7 p.m., with 2 p.m. matinees Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Voter Registration Booths Announced

Registrars from the League of Women Voters will again be available for registering voters for November's general election. Mrs. Edwin Litsinger, League voter service chairman, has announced.

League registrars will be at the new Safeway store in Walnut Creek Friday nights August 15, 22, 29 from 7-9 p.m. and Saturday afternoons August 16, 23 and 30 from 1-3 p.m. and at the Coop on Saturday, August 30 only from 10-12 and 1-3.

IN CONCORD registration will take place at Penney's store Friday nights August 15, 22 and 29 from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturday afternoons August 23 and 30 from 1-3 p.m. At Kahn's the time schedule is Friday August 29 from 7-9 p.m. and Saturdays, August 16, 23 and 30 from 1-3 p.m.

Registration in Lafayette will be at Safeway on Thursday, August 21 and 28 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. and on Saturday, August 23 and 30 from 2-4 p.m.

Pleasant Hill registration will be at the P-X Market in Gregory Gardens on Friday, August 15, 22 and 29 from 7-9 p.m. and Saturday, August 16, 23 and 30 from 1-3 p.m.

AT THE PHAIR'S and Lucky Stores in Orinda there will be registration on Friday afternoons August 15, 22 and 29 and on Saturday morning, August 16, 23 and 30.

Citizens who have been a resident of the state for one year, of the county 90 days and of their precinct 54 days will be eligible to vote. Naturalized citizens must bring their naturalization papers when registering.

A registration is still in effect if a person has voted in either the primary or the general election of the last election year, and since that time has not changed his address or name.

Any further information on registration may be obtained by calling Mrs. Edwin Litsinger at Yellowsone 4-3891.

SHIFTING INTO HIGH gear this week is the Commerce and Industry Division for the 1958 United Crusade campaign. Ready to kick things off are Jim Barcelon, John Price, Larry Bornholz and Paul Tickner.

Republicans Announce Finance Drive Plans

Plans for a County-wide United Republican Neighbor-to-Neighbor Campaign, a door-to-door canvass, for financial and voter support have been jointly announced by Jack Pedder, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee and Lindsey Spight, chairman of the GOP County Finance Committee. The drive will be held starting September 12 and will run for three weeks.

This broad-based operation, which is national in scope, will be organized and carried out by the neighbor-to-neighbor division of the Republican finance committee in each state and county, with the cooperation of the national committee members, Republican central committees, federated women's clubs and young Republican groups.

"This Division is an integral part of the official party fundraising organization," stated Pedder, "and our finance chairman will immediately proceed to select and appoint a division chairman to head up the Neighbor-to-Neighbor Campaign."

Spight said, "There is a much greater public understanding and realization today of the need for widespread individual sharing of the high cost of political campaigning. We are confident that, if given the opportunity, the citizens in all communities will give financial as well as voter support to the Party of their choice."

"The Republican Neighbor-to-Neighbor Campaign will endeavor to bring about personal contact with every prospective contributor to invite his or her financial support."

'Around World' Long-Run Show

This week, Michael Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days" is becoming the all-time champion long-run show in San Francisco. Since its opening at the Coronet Theater, on Geary Boulevard and First Avenue, on December 26, 1956, the adventures of Phileas Fogg and his manservant, Passepartout (portrayed by David Niven and Cantinflas) have been seen there by more than 800,000 patrons in some 933 performances—and many San Franciscans and out-of-town visitors have attended the show several times during the twenty months of its local run.

During the month of August, there will be 2 p.m. matinees daily except Mondays and Fridays. Evening performances are nightly at 8:30, with a 7 p.m. curtain on Sundays. Special reduced rates are in effect during week-day matinees for children when they are accompanied by an

Drawing Is August 30 For Free Pony, Burro

Boys and girls who visit the Broadway Shopping Center during its "Back-to-School" celebration will be eligible to win a three-year-old pony, "Broadway Boy", in a drawing Saturday, August 30.

Another "gift" from the Broadway merchants will be Bunny B. Burro, the smart burro with the long ears. He will be second prize in the drawing, to be held 3 a.m., August 30 at the Broadway Corral, in the parking lot, across the street from Sterling Furniture Company and Music Town.

Eligible will be people who visit participating Broadway stores this week, or anytime before the drawing, and sign entry blanks available in the stores. They need not make any purchases to be eligible.

George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "Broadway Boy" is a wonderful pony, all white, with a black spot between his eyes. He is friendly and will make a wonderful pet.

"We hope that the boys and girls will visit him at the corral, and will ride the Shetland ponies, free of charge, on Saturday and the following Saturday. The rides will be from 12 noon to 4 p.m."

Lafayette Man Hurt in Crash

Treated for head injuries Friday in Kaiser Hospital, Oakland, was Tristan Jose Rodriguez, 36, 3276 Withers Avenue, Lafayette.

He was injured when his automobile broke off a pole and turned over on North Main Street, 760 feet north of Geary Road in Pleasant Hill.

Highway patrolmen said Rodriguez was unconscious and had apparently been thrown from the car by the collision. He was first taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek.

To Committee Three Appointed
Three appointments to the California Republican State Central Committee were announced today by Congressman John F. Baldwin of Martinez.

Baldwin stated that he had appointed Lindsey Spight, 135 Orinda Highway, Orinda; Mrs. George Brownridge, 1901 Sonoma Boulevard, Vallejo, and Mrs. Donald Krotz, 44 Monte Vista Road, Orinda, to the Republican State Central Committee.

Spight has served during the past four years as chairman of the United Republican Finance Committee for Contra Costa County. Mrs. Krotz presently occupies the position of vice president of the California Federation of Republican Women, Northern Division. Mrs. Brownridge is a member of the Solano County Republican Central Committee.

Grodins Offers Free Scooter, Radios

How would you like to win a $400 Lambretta motor scooter? It's as easy as walking into Grodins, Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, and writing your name on a piece of paper. In fact, that's all you have to do to enter the contest—and at the same time become eligible not only for the top prize of a motor scooter, but for 100 personalized, pocket-sized radios, which will also be given away.

THE CONTEST with 101 prizes, said George Webster, manager of Grodins in Broadway Shopping Center, is being held in observance of Back-to-School Days. "And it's worth a visit to Grodins just to see the variety of clothing — in latest styles and fabrics, and the newest and best in shoes, for both men and boys," Webster said. The contest for these 101 prizes is on now, and it's not necessary to buy anything to enter the contest, or to be present at the drawing in order to win.

"THERE'S NOTHING to buy and nothing to write," Webster said, "except your name and address on an official contest coupon."

The Lambretta motor scooter, a deluxe model imported from Italy, will be awarded to the lucky person whose name is on the coupon which is declared the winner at a drawing to be held Saturday, September 6. Meanwhile, five personalized pocket-size radios, smaller than a box of matches and equipped with ear attachment, will be given away each day until the contest ends, Webster pointed out.

All that's necessary to become a winner of a pocket-size radio is to enter the motor-scooter contest—your name and address on the entry blank automatically puts you in this second drawing contest.

Drawings will be held daily for radios, according to Webster, and contestants do not need to be present to win—all winners will be informed.

"A visit to Grodins always pays," Webster said, "and this contest makes it even more worthwhile than ever."

Little sweater girls like the Chanel look for school, as shown by a brass-buttoned, rib-knit cardigan to top pleated skirts.

Broadway Features Pony Rides and Pony Drawing

A wonderful, all-white pony named "Broadway Boy" will be given away to a lucky boy or girl during the Broadway Shopping Center's Back-to-School celebration, which begins this week.

"Broadway Boy," with a new saddle and equipment, will be the "star" and feature attraction for youngsters picking out their new school togs. Those signing entry blanks provided in participating stores will be eligible to become his owners in the big drawing.

Registration is being held right now, and the drawing will be at 3 p.m., Saturday, August 30 in the "corral" in the parking lot across from Sterling Furniture Company and Music Town.

SECOND PRIZE in the drawing will be "Bunny B. Burro," a gentle, tame, honest-to-goodness burro, who will be in the corral with "Broadway Boy" during the Back-to-School events, which ends August 30.

Norman Geist, owner of Oak Knoll Farm, where Broadway Boy, aged 3, was raised, said the pony is amazing in that he is completely white except for a single, black dot between his eyes.

"Broadway Boy is the gentlest pony I've ever seen," he added. "The smart Burro with the Long Ears" also likes children.

George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "No purchases are necessary for boys and girls or parents to sign up for the drawing."

CHILDREN LIKE animals, and we like kids, so this should be fun for anyone."

The children will be able to ride real ponies free the next two Saturdays, August 16 and 23, from noon to 4 p.m., Webster continued.

Six gentle Shetland ponies will be on hand, and they will make every child feel like a cow hand. The "cowhands" will have plenty of adult supervision, however.

The back-to-school features will include top values for all ages, clothing and accessories for college students, high school and grade students.

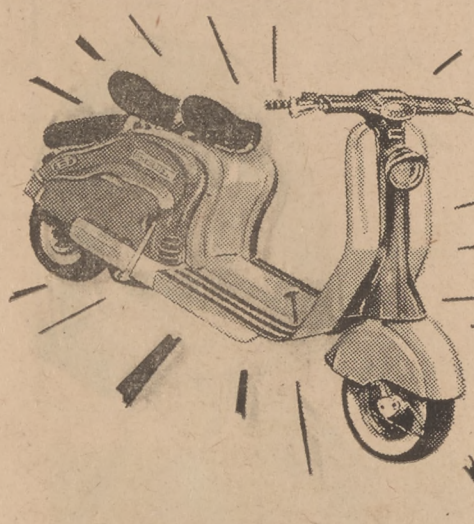

Evening Shopping Is Thurs., Friday

Family nights in the Broadway Shopping Center comes twice a week — on Thursdays and Fridays — making Broadway especially popular with folks who cannot find time during the days, according to John Tague, member of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The stores are open until 9, both nights, allowing plenty of time for dinner at home or in one of the restaurants. Capwell's is open until 9:30.

HIGH SCHOOL DRESS, reflecting student preferences at all levels, has turned conservative, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys wear. As shown at the Broadway Shopping Center, the styles are classic and at the same time practical. On the right is a reversible nylon jacket with a parka hood worn over an Ivy sports shirt and gray flannel slacks. On the left is a suburban coat worn with dark gray flannels and a one-piece felt cap.

High School Youngsters Discard Sloppy Clothes

High school youngsters are getting behind the fast-spreading "Dress Right" movement. Most important is the attitude of other students, which no longer makes it the "smart thing" to show up for class in sloppy or gang-type clothes.

Student-led campaigns, now in their third year in hundreds of secondary schools, are having a direct influence on youth styles. As a result, high school boys today are in many cases like college men in their attire. From the cap setting on his crew-cut head to his cordovan bluchers, the teen-ager has gone "Ivy" all the way.

CHINO SLACKS, bulky knit sweaters and trim tweed and Shetland jacket are prized items in his wardrobe along with blue flannel blazers, dark gray flannel slacks and zippered poplin jackets.

His taste in sport shirts is towards the button-down styles with long sleeves in checks, stripes and miniature tartans, which he will wear with the sleeves rolled up until the colder weather arrives. He also goes for the long tail knit shirts with full-fashioned collars. His dressy shirts are usually white/button-down collar oxfords supplemented by a few blues in the same style. If he is a fashion-conscious lad he will also want a couple of the round collars that are worn pinned.

HE WILL WANT a warm short coat for school. This may be either a duffle-type, a lined fur coat, or a fingertip-length gabardine with a warm lining. For dates he will dole on a rugged raglan tweed with a balmacaan collar plus a zip-in liner for winter weather.

The high school lad likes sweaters, too. He goes for the low-hole cardigans, the crew-neck Shetlands and the bulky knits styled after Scandinavian ski sweaters and Continental types.

He will need at least three pairs of shoes to start the fall term: a pair of bucks or loafers, a pair of sneakers and a pair of either cordovan or black plain toe bluchers for dress-up wear.

Betty Discovers a Treasure Trove for 'Back to School'

By BETTY

Well, summer is almost at a close and even though I do love summer so, I'm glad to see the school year roll around again. You know how the children get tired of "nothing to do and all day to do it in."

Summer is nice, however—you don't have to drive the kids to lessons or meetings or a dozen and one activities that are going on during the school months.

SPEAKING OF SCHOOL, I have to do a million and one things before it starts. Now is really the best time to get those back to school chores taken care of.

Why, just the other day I was thinking to myself of the excellent values which are now being offered. And, of course, stocks are full. During these hot summer days it's a pleasure to take advantage of the air-conditioned stores in the Broadway Shopping Center.

I went to Capwell's yesterday and looked at those wonderful Teen's Co-Ords. They are just beautiful—pill-resistant orlon slippers with new fringe collars. They have a marvelous assortment of colors.

TO GO WITH the sweaters, the skirts are provided in a stunning array of softly-muted plaid skirts with those all new stitched down pleats for slimmness.

Smiths, across the street, has a tremendous variety of jackets for boys. Those light weight ones are so popular now, along with heavier models. You'll have a hard time selecting.

AS I WAS LEAVING Smiths, I noticed that Kushins is celebrating its 25th anniversary this month. Did you know that they have been in the same location in downtown Oakland for 25 years?

What a marvelous collection of school dresses and apparel at Goldman's. Two of the smartest that I saw were wrinkle resistant, washable and in the very newest of easy line fashions. You, too, should go in and just look at the

HIS TIES will be narrow Ivy-styled reps, foulards and challis and he will want at least one solid color knit tie to wear with his bold patterned sports shirts.

But, the big news in the high school fashion world is suits. Again taking their cue from their big brothers, the lads have latched on to suits in the strict Ivy model for partying and Sunday-go-to-meeting occasions. Their favorite suiting shades run from medium to dark gray and the fabrics range from flannels to tweeds to chevrons.

All in all, the high schooler still is hard to figure, but he looks much more civilized than he used to.

wonderful selection.

Stinnett's Pastries has done it again with a NEW cake. It's super-delicious and a real innovation. Try their new lemon snow cake. I did and I think it's just heavenly.

The children have fallen in love with Music Town. That's THE headquarters for the very latest records on the market and Music Town is a favorite with me, too.

Sterling Furniture Company has made plans for the students returning to school. They have a large assortment of desks geared for the first grader all the way through to the college senior.

THESE DESKS are featured in all types of woods and designs to fit with the student's particular taste and they are all sensibly priced.

Let me tell you about the Angolara sweaters with matching skirts at Joseph Magnin.

The colors are out of this world in waltz blue, true red, wheat, java brown, sun-kist orange, sherwood green, bahama taupe, fawn white, grey-white and, of course, in black.

The skirts are featured in tweeds, plains, checks and multi-colors.

BY THE BY, did you know that Grande's Shoes has stores in Martinez, Pittsburg, Napa, Alameda, Sunnyvale, Tracy and Vacaville. They are planning to open another store in Concord. My favorite, of course, is in the Broadway Shopping Center.

Cardigans and novelty slippers are the extra special item these days at Elsie's Sportswear. They just have scads of sweaters to select from.

Don't forget — most Broadway stores are open Thursday and Friday nights until nine.

I WAS TALKING to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rapport the other day. They own Klad Ezee Children's Shop and we were discussing their new store in Hayward.

A clever lady is the home decorator at Penney's. If you haven't met Marie Smith, as yet, you have missed one of the most charming persons in Broadway. All you have to do is make an appointment with her and she will go into your home and show you how drapes, slipcovers and other goods will enhance your home.

Next, I ran across the street to Grodins. Grodins is featuring a huge assortment of those rock 'n' roll jackets. They are the very newest thing in brushed wool melton. The colors are interesting: pitch-black, antelope brown, light grey and charcoal.

AFTER VISITING for a few minutes in Grodins, I dropped into Senior's Junior Bootery. It's a veritable bee-hive these days with children being fitted in Edwards shoes.

Goodness! Look at the time, and I just have to run down and get my grocery shopping done.

—BETTY

KUSHINS 19th and Broadway—OAKLAND broadway center—WALNUT CREEK

IT WAS A GREAT BIG birthday cake to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Charles Kushins Shoe Stores in the Bay Area. Cutting the cake are Charles Kushins and Arthur E. Weston, who have owned and managed the firm since its establishment in 1933. With them, from left, are department managers Claude Franklin, Aaron Nurenberg, Arthur Beren, Pete Pachner, Seymour Artel and Richard Katz.

Kushins Celebrates Silver Anniversary with Big Cake

Over 100 guests, employees and relatives attended the 25th anniversary celebration of Kushins Shoe Stores at the Mira Vista Country Club recently.

Guests of honor at the party were Charles Kushins and Arthur E. Weston, who have owned and managed the firm since it was founded in 1933.

Both Kushins and Weston are long time residents of Oakland. The firm ranks in the first 15 independent shoe operations in the United States.

Kushins began its expansion program in 1950 when it enlarged its parent store in Oakland to become the largest single-floor shoe operation in the nation.

In 1955, it opened its commodious branch store in the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek.

Kushins and Weston expressed to well-wishers their joint determinations for further expansion in the future to better serve the growing shoe market.

Kushins is one of the deans of the American shoe industry, having spent over a half century in the business. He is also a world traveler, with emphasis on the Far East, which he has visited several times.

Highpoint of the anniversary celebration was a huge birthday cake which was cut by Kushins and Weston. Department managers were key figures in this ceremony.

They are Claude Franklin, Aaron Nurenberg, Arthur Beren, Peter Pachner, Seymour Artel and Richard Katz.

Ponies Await Young Riders On Saturday

Boys and girls visiting the Broadway Shopping Center this Saturday and on the following Saturday, August 13, will have the opportunity of playing "cowhand" as they ride the Shetland ponies featured during the "Back-to-School" celebration.

The ponies will be waiting for their riders from 12 noon to 4 p.m. on both Saturdays. The rides will be free.

The "cowhands" will check in near the "corral"—in the parking lot across from Sterling Furniture Company and Music Town. There will be adult supervision, of course.

Here's How to Play It Cool

The phrase, "He's a cool customer" was never so true as when applied to shoppers in the Broadway Shopping Center!

"All stores in Broadway have air conditioning, and the comfortable atmosphere which makes shopping not just a chore, but a recreation!" states Sal Blasquez, committeeman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Visitors can walk leisurely about the stores, without the worries that go with a fevered brow—and they also know that Broadway is so 'compact' that only a few steps usually are necessary between stores," Blasquez added.

New Fall Styles Include Trapeze for Small Girls

Of course, "younger girls" — the latest styles, just like their mothers and older sisters, when school starts in a few weeks.

And the nursery school set has taken the trapeze silhouette as its very own. They wear it in French-smock versions for every day — in bright peppermint over, perhaps, a jumper dress of red, no-iron cotton; in blue corduroy stripes, autumn-toned plaids, or in many other patterns. Dacron and cotton blouses are often used with jumpers.

FOR PARTY OCCASIONS, the trapeze is also available for little girls in a surprising variety of gay fabrics and colors. Red and black make an exciting color scheme for the button-down-the-front dress, collared and cuffed in white.

Sometimes these party frocks have a surprise back — a long inverted pleat topped by a black velvet bow. Floral sprigged cotton knit is a favorite fabric for party-going dresses.

And the chemise, with waistline either high or low, is another good choice for mothers who have small girls to outfit for fall. They may choose the chemise both in jumper style or long line, and a variety of materials include bright plaid and tapestry tweed cotton, rayon and acetate.

GIRLS LOVE sweaters, too, and fall styles include them in novelty rib-knit chemise slip-ons, turtleneck cardigans and the shawl collar campus style.

There's new-style excitement in shoes, too, for toddlers through teens, rugged for school wear, sleek and stylish for parties.

The large variety of shoes styled for small junior misses include the fall version of the T-strap in bright colors with ripple crepe soles, moccasin oxfords, black nylon satin tapered-toe pumps, and the new metal hook oxford in buck.

Parking, Parking, More Parking at Broadway, WC!

"Parking, parking and more parking awaits shoppers headed for 'Broadway, Walnut Creek!'" said George Webster, Broadway Merchants Association president. Broadway was planned with ample provision for parking, and in recent years as more and more customers are flocking to buy and look around, more parking has been added.

The grand total now stands at more than 2200 individual spaces, capable of accommodating thousands more than that number each day, Webster said. If one lot happens to be filled, it is an easy matter to cruise over to the next lot, and an abundance of spaces.
